ASIAN GAMES: SHOOTING STARS AND GOLDEN GIRLS

The men's 10m air rifle team and the women's cricket side won India the first gold medals in Hangzhou. A look at Monday's haul

WORLD RECORD FOR SHOOTING TEAM

The men's 10m air rifle team kept the hosts at bay with a world record score to win the team gold. Their combined 1893.7 eclipsed the record held by China (1893.3). In fact, all three finished in the top eight in the qualifying but Divyansh didn't advance as only the top two from each NOC could feature in the final. In the final, Aishwary won bronze

GOLD FOR WOMEN'S CRICKET SIDE

- Captain Harmanpreet Kaur, back after serving a two match suspension, marshalled the bowling troops well to beat Sri Lanka by 19 runs in the final. Opting to bat first on a tricky surface, they made 116 before restricting the Islanders to 97. For India, Titas Sadhu excelled with the ball, picking 3/6 in her four overs | P19

LAW PANEL'S 'ONE POLL' REPORT TO SUGGEST 2029 ROLLOUT

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

EXPRESS EXCLUSIVE

LAYING the groundwork for the Centre's 'One Nation, One Poll' proposal, the 22nd Law Commission will submit its final report on the feasibility of holding simultaneous elections to the Lok Sabha and state assemblies, according to top sources in the law ministry. The commission headed by Justice Ritu Raj Awasthi has been working on the final report since February this year.

The first meeting of a high-level committee on simultaneous polls headed by former President Ram Nath Kovind was held last Saturday.

The Justice Awasthi-led panel held extensive consultations with political parties, bureaucrats, academicians and experts. "I won't say that there was consensus among parties on the idea," an official said, adding that the government may send the Law Commission's report to the Kovind-led committee for their perusal.

Speaking to this newspaper, the official said the law panel would recommend synchronised elections in the next five years so that the simultaneous poll rollout will start in 2029. To synchronise the elections, the process has to begin from this year, the official said. He also dismissed the possibility of holding simultaneous polls to the Lok Sabha and state assemblies in 2024.

The commission has drawn most of its recommendations from the draft report of the previous Law Commission led by Justice B S Chauhan, submitted in 2018, said the source. "We have taken many recommendations of the Justice Chauhan committee report into consideration. On the same lines as the previous law commission's report, we have recommended synchronisation of elections in the next five years," he said.

The suggestions of the previous Law Commission included advancing or postponing election timings in certain states, such that polls to all state assemblies and the Lok Sabha may be held together. If assembly elections are due before Lok Sabha elections, it said that the term of these assemblies may be extended to synchronise it with the Lok Sabha elections, by amending the Constitution. "We have also made proposals on similar lines. It is up to the government to take the final call," the official said.

If simultaneous elections cannot be conducted, all elections falling due in a calendar year should be conducted together, the panel had suggested. It would require at least five Constitutional amendments.

The official further said, "The previous commission gave suggestions for the 2019 Lok Sabha elections. We have considered its suggestions on hung House and no-confidence motion, etc," he said.

Cauvery: B'luru bandh today, may be lukewarm

Schools, colleges to shut; ban orders imposed

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

What's on, what's not

- Cabs and autorickshaws to ply as usual
- BMTC & KSRTC services likely to be affected
- Malls & multiplexes to open post noon
- Shops to remain open

THE state capital will witness two bandhs this week — Tuesday and Friday — against the release of Cauvery water to Tamil Nadu. Karnataka Jala Samrakshana Samiti (KJSS) has called for Bengaluru and Ramanagara bandh on Tuesday while Kannada Okkoota (Kannada Organisations' Federation) has called for Karnataka bandh on Friday.

Schools and colleges in the city will remain closed on Tuesday. Bengaluru Urban Deputy Commissioner KA Dayananda issued an order on Monday declaring a holiday for schools and colleges in the district on Tuesday. Bengaluru City University (BCU) has postponed examinations for BA and BSc students (semesters 2 and 4) from September 26 to October 3.

The city police have imposed prohibitory orders from 12 am on Tuesday to 12 am on Wednesday. While farmer leader and convenor of KJSS Kuruburu Shanthakumar claimed that more than 150 organisations have extended support to the bandh call, some associations, which had initially extended support, withdrew it by Monday evening. BJP, JDS and Aam Aadmi Party have extended their support.

However, the bandh call is expected to receive a lukewarm response as private transporters and hotels and restaurants have decided to operate as usual. Autorickshaw drivers' unions, Ola & Uber cab drivers' association and the Bruhat Bengaluru Hotels' Association have only extended moral support.

Shanthakumar said a massive procession will be taken out from Town Hall to Freedom Park. P4

GOWDA SEEKS PM'S INTERVENTION

Seeking Prime Minister Narendra Modi's intervention to resolve the dispute between Tamil Nadu and Karnataka over sharing of Cauvery water, former prime minister HD Deve Gowda on Monday appealed to him to direct the Union Jal Shakti Ministry to file a review petition before the Supreme Court. Gowda insisted that the Centre constitute a committee of experts to study the ground reality in Karnataka. P6

AIADMK makes break-up official, exits NDA

AIADMK general secretary EPS at party headquarters on Monday | P JAWAHAR

THE uneasy relationship between the AIADMK and BJP, which had endured for four years due to various political compulsions, came to an end on Monday with the Dravidian major unambiguously calling it quits. The AIADMK also announced that it had exited the BJP-led National Democratic Alliance (NDA) and would form its own alliance to face the 2024 Lok Sabha elections.

The AIADMK's decision, just seven months before the parliamentary polls, is seen as a setback for the BJP at the national level as it was one of the few key allies of the saffron party.

"The decision to leave the NDA was taken unanimously and in deference to the views and feelings of more than two crore AIADMK cadre who were outraged by the continued criticisms of the BJP's state leadership. The AIADMK will face the Lok Sabha elections by forming an alliance with like-minded parties" the party's deputy coordinator KP Munusamy told reporters after the meeting chaired by general secretary Edappadi K Palaniswami in Chennai.

Munusamy said the resolution adopted by the meeting said that for the past year the BJP's state leadership, with ulterior motives, has been criticising the AIADMK's ideals and leaders, including CN Annadurai, and J Jayalalithaa. Besides, the BJP's state leadership belittled the AIADMK's historic state-level conference held on August 20 and has been criticising the party's general secretary.

In Coimbatore, BJP state president K Annamalai said his party's national leadership would respond to the development. "I will talk about this later," he said. BJP state general secretary Raama Sreenivasan described the AIADMK's move as unfortunate. "But the BJP will form its own alliance and face the Lok Sabha elections as we did in 2014," he added. P7

It's final, BBMP to have 225 wards

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE State Government on Monday issued the final gazette notification on delimitation of wards in Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) limits. Accordingly, there will be 225 wards. The previous BJP government wanted to increase the number of wards from 198 to 243.

Sources in the Urban Development Department (UDD), which oversaw the delimitation exercise, said, "This indicates that the government is only a few steps away from holding elections to the BBMP Council. The term of the council ended on September 10, 2020." P3

Plaint against CM's son over 'gifts' remark

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

WITH a video clip of Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's son Yathindra claiming to have gifted pressure cookers and iron boxes to members of the Madiwala community ahead of the 2023 Assembly elections going viral, a complaint has been registered against him in the Nanjangud police station.

In his complaint, AN Rangu, a resident of Alaguru in T Narasipur taluk, alleged that Yathindra, while speaking at a function to inaugurate the association of Madiwalas in Nanjangud on September 15, stated that iron boxes and pressure cookers were gifted to the community members during campaigning for the Assembly elections.

This violated the election code of conduct and Yathindra should be booked under RPI-1951 and IPC.

"Thus, I appeal to you to book Yathindra and also Siddaramaiah and hold a fair probe in this regard," Rangu stated in his police complaint.

Manipur Wushu player assures medal, recalls father's sacrifice

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

Naorem Roshibina Devi | PIC: 'X'

THE biggest Indian headlines on Day Two were at the shooting range and the cricket ground. The most poignant story, though, was at the Xiaoshan Guali Sports Centre, a venue hosting Wushu. Even as Naorem Roshibina Devi was a picture of calm, she held stories. Of a dad's sacrifice. Of many sleepless nights worrying about the safety of her parents. And the anguish of not been able to visit family in Manipur. After being assured of a medal in the 60 kg (sanda) category, Roshibina recalled some of those to this daily.

After selection trials in June, she tried to go home but could not. All she managed was Imphal, Manipur's capital. Kwasiphai Mayai Leikai, a nondescript village in Bishnupur, seemed a distant place due to the tension that had been afflicting the state since May this year. She recollected how her father Naorem Damu Singh had to come to Imphal to meet her. Days later, she learnt that her father had to sell land to fund her travel.

Though Roshibina was physically present in the national camp in Srinagar, her thoughts were elsewhere. She said she used to cry a lot thinking about her family members and their safety when Manipur was in turmoil. The 23-year-old wanted to travel back to see her family. Sensing the daughter's anxiousness to go home from the camp, her father sold a piece of land to fund her travel. P19

CANADA'S 2ND INDIA TRAVEL ADVISORY OUT

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

CANADA on Monday updated its travel advisory for its citizens in India asking them to stay vigilant and exercise caution in the wake of the recent developments and the "negative sentiment" towards Canada. This is its second advisory within a week. It sought to flag the threat of terrorist attacks across the country. "Avoid non-essential travel to Assam and Manipur due to risk of terrorism and insurgency and avoid all travel to Jammu and Kashmir due to unpredictability, civil unrest, kidnapping," it said.

The advisory added that Canadian citizens currently in India should avoid all travel to areas within 10 km of the border with Pakistan—which includes the states of Gujarat, Punjab and Rajasthan—due to the presence of landmines and unexploded ordnance. "The level of tension between India and Pakistan may change suddenly. You could experience difficulties when travelling between the two countries," it said. The advisory noted that the security situation along the border with Pakistan, especially along the Line of Control, remains volatile.

ANOTHER GLASS CEILING BROKEN

SC hears arguments from deaf lawyer for the first time

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

FOR the first time, a deaf lawyer argued her case before the Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud, paving the way for more physically-challenged lawyers to defend their cases.

Sarah Sunny on Friday argued her case with the help of an Indian sign language interpreter. Senior advocate Sanchita Ain made a plea to Chief Justice Chandrachud to let Sarah argue her case with an interpreter. He immediately gave his assent.

This historic moment would not have taken place as the control room responsible for managing virtual hearings hesitated to accommodate Sarah and her interpreter. With the CJI's approval, the control room accommodated Sarah, who is based in Bangalore, and her interpreter, Saurav Roychowdhury, too appearing virtually.

As Sarah's turn came, her interpreter stepped forward and acted as a bridge between her and the world. In the process, he received praise from Solicitor General Tushar Mehta who said the speed at which the interpreter is interpreting in sign language is amazing.

Sarah's determination has broken down more barriers. The CJI, when he took his oath of office in November last year, had said, "My work, not words, will speak."

In line with his commitment, he established the "SC Committee on Accessibility," chaired by Justice S R Bhat.

This committee's mission is to conduct comprehensive accessibility audits of Supreme Court premises and its operations. It involves reaching out to persons with disabilities who visit the Supreme Court, soliciting their feedback, and assessing the nature and extent of the challenges they face.

The ultimate goal of this initiative is to ensure that justice is accessible to all and to gain a deep understanding of the hardships faced by differently-abled individuals in their interactions with the Supreme Court of India.

Seeks details of drinking water, garbage mgmt

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@BENGALURU

DEPUTY Chief Minister (DCM) DK Shivakumar on Monday sternly warned all officials to either work efficiently and bring a good name to the government, or vacate.

He issued instructions at the Karnataka Development Programme (KDP) meeting at the Bengaluru Zilla Panchayat (ZP) office on Monday. He also directed ZP Chief Executive Officer (CEO) Kantharaj to suspend all the officials who were absent at the meeting.

Speaking at the 2023-24 first quarter KDP meeting held at Bengaluru Zilla Panchayat Hall in Banashankari, he said, "In every village and panchayat, the drinking water situation should be known, and priority given to solve the problem. The water problem has arisen due to a lack of rain, and measures must be taken to eliminate it," said Shivakumar.

Lashing out at officials for a lack of information on how people are suffering due to water scarcity, he said officials have not provided data on Pure Water Supply Units (also called ROs), or how much water is being supplied daily. He pulled them up for coming unprepared for the meeting.

"You are wandering in your own world. Don't you have the courtesy to report important developments to the district minister?" Shivakumar lambasted officials over not keeping him informed about the developments.

About 110 villages have been added but are still underdeveloped and unstable, though they were brought under municipal limits a decade ago, he said. Zilla Panchayat and other local body authorities are responsible for the mess, he said, and directed officials to do the work of ruling and opposition MLAs equally.

He instructed officials to take legal action against those who dump garbage on the roadsides, and medical waste everywhere, and questioned why action was not taken against the culprits. He also sought a comprehensive report on garbage disposal.

He directed the District Collector, CEO, police officers, RTO and corporation officers to hold a meeting regarding vehicles carrying waste and dumping it illegally. Taluk panchayat and Panchayat Development Officers were asked to explain the steps they were taking for revenue generation.

₹10cr stadium will come up in Anekal: DyCM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

DEPUTY CHIEF Minister and Bengaluru Development Minister DK Shivakumar on Monday said Rs 10 crore will be allotted for the construction of a stadium in Anekal.

At a Janata Darshan programme, Shivakumar accepted representations from the public about roads, drinking water needs, public toilets, burial grounds and other issues. He said the Congress government has implemented the guarantee schemes that were listed in the party manifesto.

A few select beneficiaries of the Gruha Lakshmi scheme were handed cheques of Rs 2,000 on the occasion.

"Has the BJP given anything? Congress will do what it says," said Shivakumar. He also said he had received hundreds of representations, including from MLA B Shivanna. The DyCM said the MLA has asked for Cauvery water for areas in Attibele and Sarjapura and Metro connectivity till Anekal. "The next time when we meet in December, we will come with a Detailed Project Report for it. This apart, the request for an Assistant Commissioner (AC) Court to hear and settle disputes will also be set up," he said.

Asked about the final notification of the BBMP ward delimitation, he said the matter is in court. "If the court orders to hold election even now, our government will conduct it as we are ready," he said.

Plaint against YouTuber over stunts in Metro

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited on Monday lodged a complaint with the KR Market police station against a popular YouTuber based in Cyprus who travelled ticketless and jumped off the turnstile near the AFC gate of the KR Market Metro station and bragged about it on a video.

Fidias Panayiotus told his 2.26 million followers, "I will teach you how to get the Metro in India for free" and performs these stunts. He also does push-ups inside the train. The video gained many negative reviews with many asking the police to take action against him.

A Metro source said, "We asked the KSRP police to file a complaint against him at the KR Market station. We have decided to book a criminal case against him. An FIR will be filed in a day or two."

MINOR AMONG FOUR KILLED IN SEPARATE ACCIDENTS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

FOUR people, including a minor boy, have died in as many accidents in the city since Sunday.

A 26-year-old biker, identified as Jayalinga, a resident of Konanakunte, died on the spot after he rammed into a garbage truck near the Jayanagar metro station in the wee hours of Monday. The victim, who is from Kanakapura, was returning home from his friend's house. He was working in an electronic showroom on Bannerghatta Road. He got married two years back and had a seven-month-old child. The Jayanagar traffic police have registered a case.

In Vidyaranyapura on Monday morning, 32-year-old Chandrappa of Attur Layout died after he was hit by a motorbike on the Old Post Office Road. The victim, who was riding a scooter, applied brakes suddenly after a car suddenly passed in front of him. He lost balance and fell. A motorbike, which was coming from behind, hit him injuring him severely. Chandrappa died on the way to a hospital. The motorbike rider escaped along with his vehicle. The Yelahanka traffic police have registered a case.

In High Grounds traffic police limits, a 17-year-old car mechanic died in the wee hours of Monday after a cab rammed his bike. Around 1 am, the deceased, Vinay S, a resident of Palace Guttahalli, along with Shekhar (17), was riding a bike at high speed in the vicinity of Sirur Park Road towards Mantri Mall when he lost control and rammed into a cab. Vinay was riding the bike and both of them were not wearing helmets. Vinay sustained head injuries and was rushed to a hospital where he succumbed. Shekhar suffered a fractured leg.

On the Bengaluru-Bellary Road in Devanahalli, another biker, 23-year-old Athik Rehman, a resident of Chikkaballapura, died after a car rammed into him near Kote Cross on Sunday night. Rehman had come to Bengaluru to attend an MBA entrance exam. On his way back, he met with an accident.

₹1cr accident insurance for BMTC staff, says min

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

BENGALURU Metropolitan Transport Corporation (BMTC) employees will be eligible for an accident insurance of up to Rs 1 crore, said Transport Minister Ramalinga Reddy.

He was speaking at the BMTC Silver Jubilee celebration held here on Monday. One crore accidental insurance that is available for the employees of Karnataka Road Transport Corporation (KSRTC) will be now extended to BMTC employees too. In case of death of a BMTC employee, his family will be entitled to get Rs 1 crore accidental insurance amount, Reddy said.

He added that jobs will be provided to the family members of employees who die by accident on compassionate grounds. "Due to some technical reason the jobs were not provided for more than eight years. I have ordered Managing Director Sathyavathi to provide the appointment orders to the family members in a phased manner immediately."

'Delimitation unscientific'

ON August 18, the department published a draft notification announcing 225 wards and had called for objections, if any, to be filed within 15 days. On September 14, the scrutiny committee held a meeting and considered various suggestions given by the people.

Department sources said based on the High Court's directive issued in June 2023 to complete the delimitation exercise in 12 weeks, the government will now come out with a list of wards to be reserved for candidates from OBCs.

However, the delimitation exercise evoked a strong criticism from BJP leaders who termed it "unscientific". NR Ramesh of BJP said the government had reduced the number of voters in wards where his party has a strong presence. "About 7,800 voters from Thyagarajanagar booth in Yediyur ward have been shifted to Ganesh Mandir ward. The number of voters per ward should be 37,000. But after the delimitation exercise, the number of voters in Yediyur ward has come down to 29,000," he said. He said many residents' welfare associations are planning to move the High Court against the "unscientific" delimitation exercise.

Protests only in Freedom Park, security to TN businesses

City police file affidavit before HC, say essential services will run as usual, no forced closure

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

BENGALURU BANDH

STATING that no protest or rally can be held in the city, except in Freedom Park, Bengaluru police on Monday told the Karnataka High Court that security will be deployed in pockets inhabited by Tamil populations and at commercial establishments owned by Tamilians in Bengaluru. Safe priority zones have been identified for Tamil Nadu registered vehicles.

Referring to the orders passed by the high court prohibiting rallies, protests and dharnas on the city streets, except in Freedom Park, police filed an affidavit stating that an endorsement had been issued, denying permission to organisers to hold processions from Town Hall to Mysuru Bank Circle, to express solidarity with the bandh. Permission has been given to the organisers to hold a protest at Freedom Park, police told the court.

Stating that they had warned protesters they would be responsible for any violation of law and order, or any damage to public property, police informed court that the endorsement had been issued in response to an application received by the city police commissioner on September 23 from Karnataka Jalarakshana Samithi, seeking permission to conduct a rally/protest/bandh over the release of water to Tamil Nadu, from Town Hall to Mysuru Bank.

City police also informed court that the government has taken preventive action and made traffic arrangements to make sure the public is not put to any difficulty, and sufficient transport is also provided for the public, to school and college students in the city.

Security will be provided to schools, institutions and commercial establishments and there will be no forceful closure. All essential services will also be given security. There would be no hindrance to essential services in the city, police told the court through an affidavit, in response to an interlocutory application filed by Ravikumar Kanchanahalli over the bandh called in Bengaluru and Ramanagara districts, to the public interest litigations pending before the high court.

Taking note of the affidavit, a division bench of Justice G Narendar and Justice Vijaykumar A Patil said no further directions were required as the affidavit discloses various steps taken by city police in response to the directions issued by court in 2020.

The police, however, could continue action against those who violate the Framing of Licensing and Regulations of Protests, Demonstrations and Protest Marches (Bangalore City) Order, 2021a, the court ordered.

REACH AIRPORT EARLY

In light of the expected disruption in transport services, BIAL has put out an advisory urging passengers to plan their travel to and from the airport well in advance. "Passengers are requested to follow alerts from respective airlines, law enforcement agencies and media releases for further updates," read a message on 'X'.

METRO TO RUN AS USUAL

BMRCL will operate Metro trains as usual and as of now, no changes have been announced. "We will operate our services as usual. Divisional Railway Manager, Bengaluru Division, Yogesh Mohan said, "We plan to run our services as usual, and will beef up security at important stations to run trains smoothly."

BOOTS ON THE GROUND

- 60 Platoons of KSRP, 1 CRPF company , 40 platoons of CAR, 2 companies of RAF deployed
- 15 DCPs, 47 ACPs, 199 PIs, 650 PSIs, 1,500 ASIs, 4,400 HCs and 8,500 PCs on bandobast duty
- Around 800 people accused of violence in 2016, were also rounded up last night
- Personnel from CID, Internal Security Division will be deployed

Public transport likely to be affected

BMTC bus services and KSRTC services to different parts of the State from Bengaluru are likely to be affected as the KSRTC Staff and Workers' Federation and Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation Employees' League have extended their support to the bandh call. However, the BMTC stated that it will run its buses as usual.

Metro services will also remain unaffected. Malls and multiplexes are expected to open post noon.

Shanthakumar said a massive procession will be taken out from Town Hall to Freedom Park. Protesters will submit a memorandum to the State Government. Workers of BJP, JDS and AAP will participate in the procession.

Meanwhile, Bengaluru City Police Commissioner B Dayananda on Monday warned against organising processions. He informed that protests will be allowed only at Freedom Park.

Veteran Kannada activist Vatal Nagaraj, who held a meeting with leaders of Kannada organisations on Monday, said Kannada Okkoota has decided to call for Karnataka bandh on Friday. "As many as 1,217 organisations have extended their support to Karnataka bandh. We will lay siege to the airport and block all national highways. Our voice should reach the Union Government and the Supreme Court," he said. Kannada activists will also lay siege to Raj Bhavan on Tuesday, he said. Clarifying that Kannada Okkoota is not supporting Tuesday's Bengaluru bandh, Nagaraj said, "We can't leave other districts of the State while observing a bandh. Despite our request, Shanthakumar did not agree to withdraw the call for Bengaluru bandh."

Reacting to this, Shanthakumar alleged that there was a conspiracy to create confusion over Tuesday's bandh. He expressed the hope that the bandh would be successful and peaceful.

Ban orders imposed till midnight

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CITY Police Commissioner B Dayananda has warned of stern action against those taking law into their hands during Tuesday's Bengaluru bandh. At a press conference on Monday, he told reporters that no permission has been given for Tuesday's bandh. Those who want to protest can do so inside Freedom Park on Sheshadri Road.

"Various organisations under the banner of 'Karnataka Jala Rakshana Samithi' have sought permission for the protest from 6am to 6pm. Since it is illegal to protest anywhere in the city, police will not allow any protests, and those who are found protesting will be detained. The organisations want to hold a protest march from Town Hall to Freedom Park via Mysore Bank Circle. This request has been denied, and anybody trying to conduct a protest march will be arrested at the starting point. Stringent action will be taken against those indulging in a forceful bandh. Only voluntary participation is allowed," the commissioner said. Section 144 will be imposed from 12am on Tuesday to 12am Wednesday. More than five people cannot gather at one place. Organisers will be held responsible for any untoward incident and damage to public property during the bandh.

"Arrangements have also been made for smooth traffic flow. Anybody affected during the bandh can call 112. " the commisssioner said.

India's coffee should reach all over world: Piyush

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

"INDIA'S coffee must be taken to every part of the world. Coffee from different parts of India like Chikkamagalur Valley in Karnataka, Araku Valley in Andhra Pradesh and other regions comes with their own unique tastes. These tastes must be popularised by the Coffee Board of India and must be introduced to the world," said Piyush Goyal, Union Minister for Commerce and Industries at the first four-day coffee World Coffee Conference.

Speaking after the inauguration of the Asia's first ever four-day coffee event, he said, "Coffee is not just a beverage, it is a bridge between cultures, and every country has their own way of roasting and brewing coffee. India is the largest exporter of coffee and we have much more potential to expand this," Goyal said.

Massimiliano Fabian, Chair of the International Coffee Council (ICC) said that the coffee industry is facing major challenges because of climate change, pests and diseases and added that these challenges must be addressed.

Addressing this, Goyal encouraged the adoption of new technologies, in the coffee industry and said, "A sustainable roadmap needs to be introduced to make coffee business more sustainable and eco-friendly."

Organised by International Coffee Organization (ICO), in collaboration with the Coffee Board of India, Union Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Karnataka government and the coffee industry, the four-day Coffee Conference also has a dome-shaped structure with a coffee museum. The museum illustrates the journey of a coffee bean from its source to the cup, showcasing various coffee variants from India. Coffee growers, roasters, curers, from over 80 countries are participating in the conference.

After KR Pura-Byp, Challaghatta stretch to be inspected on Friday

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

IN a key development for Bengaluru Metro, the Commissioner for Metro Rail Safety, Southern Circle, on Monday gave Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited the authorisation to operate trains on the 2.5-km K R Pura-Baiyappanahalli stretch. He has also agreed to visit the Kengeri-Challaghatta stretch on Friday (September 29) for inspection. It is now likely that both the stretches will be launched simultaneously, after which, the Purple Line network alone will cover a distance of 44 kms. The ridership on the K R Puram stretch will shoot up to 1 lakh from the present 30,000 when Whitefield gets linked with the rest of Purple Line.

A M Chowdhary has handed over a five-page letter with observations on various aspects of the inspection conducted on September 21 on the K R Pura stretch. A top source said, "The CMRS has asked for the earthing below the Open Web Girder near Baiyappanahalli to be completed. He has also asked for all the bolts at the girder to be rechecked again as a matter of safety."

The Benniganahalli station came in for appreciation in the report, he added. Asked about the launch date of the full stretch, BMRCL Managing Director Anjum Parwez said, "It has not been finalised." The launch date depends on the availability of dates from VIPs of both the State and Centre. "We have to follow the protocol of inviting both the State and Central ministers to launch it. So, unless they give their dates, we cannot take any decision on the launch date," said a senior official.

PETER VIDAL

26TH September : I mentioned the Venus-Pluto pattern on Monday, the one we're just leaving behind. I should add that it's a pattern which talks about the truth, and the need for everyone to face up to and understand their deepest emotional pressures and desires. This is in line with the general astrological view that, if we know what makes us tick, we'll improve our behaviour - and change the future!

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Mercury, planet of contracts and firm agreements sees to it that business discussions are well aspected, so clear up outstanding matters. This is a peaceful day, enabling you to spend time on yourself. Keep personal affairs under close scrutiny, though, for you will soon be assured that a financial plan should pay off.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
You must now move fast to exploit your advantages. This is a time for new beginnings, which means, of course, that you must be prepared to let go of the past and break the habits of a lifetime. This may not be easy, but then there is always a price to be paid for success.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
Beneficial planetary influences continue. You should be at your most spontaneous and creative at the present time, and there are plenty of opportunities for you to shape circumstances to your liking. You may share your secrets with a friend if you think this will help.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
Versatile conditions give you the chance to branch out into new avenues. Friends are likely to offer help quite soon, and when they do, you should accept it gracefully. It will do your morale good to realise you're no longer alone. Your deeper questions may not be answered for another three or four days, so be patient.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
Now that the Moon is so powerful we are unable to forecast that leisurely conditions will prevail. However, that's mainly because you're hovering on the edge of one of your intense moods. Mind you, friendly meetings are likely and work is liable to be more relaxed than usual. There might also be an unex-pected opportunity to make your mark professionally.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Although not everything is going your way, life does take on a more colourful quality and, if you wish, you may fall in with dramatic events. Otherwise you will have to concentrate on getting work done in preparation for meetings later in the week.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Partners' expectations could be high, so look forward to a busy day, with unexpected developments to keep you occupied. Conserve your energy early on, as the build-up of pressure could be quite stressful. Plus, keep a watchful eye on financial developments.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Awkward planetary aspects today suggest an uncertain patch in relationships. Counter the celestial energies by making a mighty effort to see other people's points of view and reach agreement where possible. You will feel much more certain of yourself in three days' time.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You are now aware that curious activities behind the scenes mean that you must remain alert. Early morning brings the chance of a misunderstanding between friends. Has someone broken a promise? A partner poses difficult questions, but you'll have a ready answer.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Social complications are likely, perhaps due to financial difficulties. Problems which may seem insuperable this morning will sort themselves out by this evening - with a little help from the right quarter. Keep an eye on travel plans, otherwise you'll forget essential details in the midst of your excitement.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Career-wise, you may strike a stressful note, yet inevitably your professional cares are intimately connected to domestic woes. Get to grips with the underlying issues and stop feeling sorry for yourself. There is more going for you at home than you imagine, so give relations and partners their due.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Intriguing meetings are likely, particularly if creative openings are on the horizon. Make sure that your case is thoroughly prepared, and that nobody has the chance to get the better of you. Don't be afraid to share radical proposals with people who may, to your surprise, agree with you!

DECISION ON CLOUD SEEDING IN 2-3 DAYS: DKS

DyCM DK Shivakumar on Monday said that a decision on cloud seeding in the state will be taken in next 2-3 days. Speaking to reporters here, Shivakumar said, "If we take up cloud seeding, the drought situation could improve in the state. We will discuss this in the Cabinet and take further action. We will also discuss the Cauvery issue in the Cabinet."

Gowda seeks PM's intervention, moots expert panel to study dams

Wants Modi to direct Jal Shakti Ministry to file review plea before SC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FORMER prime minister and JDS supremo HD Deve Gowda on Monday sought Prime Minister Modi's intervention to resolve the dispute between Tamil Nadu and Karnataka over sharing of Cauvery water and appealed to him to direct the Union Jal Shakti Ministry to file a review petition before the Supreme Court, which refused to interfere with CWMA's order to release water to TN.

Addressing reporters here, Gowda insisted that the Centre constitute a committee of experts to study the ground reality in Karnataka. Dams in the Cauvery basin in the State haven't received sufficient inflow in view of poor rainfall, the former PM said.

He lauded former CM HD Kumaraswamy for visiting the KRS dam to take stock of the situation there when officials of the department concerned failed to do so.

In his letter to the PM on September 23, which he released to the media, Gowda explained the distress situation the State is facing. He presented certain statistics and put forth some demands. They include: to immediately form a committee of five experts not connected to any political party, Karnataka and TN governments, and the Union Government; it should visit all Cauvery basin reservoirs in Karnataka and TN and submit reports to the CWMA and SC to initiate action as a measure of immediate relief.

The CWMA and CWRC should make periodical visits to the reservoirs in the Cauvery basin, preferably once in 15 days, to assess the situation instead of relying only on the records placed before them. "May I therefore kindly request you to give suitable directions to the Ministry of Jal Shakti to address these issues on priority," Gowda appealed to Modi. He stressed the need for setting up an independent external agency, which has expertise in the field of integrated reservoirs operation studies, for assessing the situation in both states. The agency should also be vested with the responsibility of formulating a distress formula, taking into consideration factors such as rainfall deficit, inflows, reservoir levels, storage positions, water required for irrigation and drinking purposes, monsoons in Karnataka and TN, actual utilisation of water under various categories, and mandatory discharges to be made by Karnataka to TN in different scenarios, Gowda stated in his letter.

Gowda also slammed the Congress as he alleged that it played power politics over the Cauvery issue. "When I was fighting in the interest of the state with regard to the Cauvery issue all alone in the Parliament, the then PM Manmohan Singh suggested that I settle the issue in the court as he had to complete his term of one more year as PM with the support of 40 DMK MPs. Singh is still there as a witness. Four of the ministers, including Mallikarjuna Kharge, KH Muniyappa, M Veerappa Moily and SM Krishna from the state remained mute spectators. This was how the state of Karnataka was misused in the game of power," he said. JDS will support the Bengaluru Bandh and let it go in a peaceful manner, he siad.

Siddu welcomes Gowda writing to PM

BENGALURU: Chief Minister Siddaramaiah welcomed former Prime Minister HD Deve Gowda's suggestion of seeking PM Narendra Modi's intervention to resolve the Cauvery dispute between Karnataka and Tamil Nadu. "I welcome the letter written by former PM HD Deve Gowda requesting PM Narendra Modi to intervene to resolve the plight faced by the state regarding Cauvery water distribution. The only effective and appropriate solution to this situation is for Modi to mediate and resolve the issue through dialogue to avoid the injustice that is happening in the present situation," the CM added. Siddaramaiah hoped that PM Modi would accept Gowda's request and invite him (Siddaramaiah) for talks soon. "I request them to ensure a delegation of leaders of all parties of the state meet the PM at the earliest. Karnataka has a history where the political parties keep aside their differences and try to solve the problem together in the matter of protecting the interest of land-water-language. I believe that the BJP will follow this legacy like the JDS," the CM added. ENS

Will present arguments 'more forcefully' before apex court, says Siddu

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah said that the State Government will present its arguments forcefully when the case comes up for hearing in the Supreme Court on Tuesday. He appealed to farmers and Kannada activists not to cause any inconvenience to people during bandh and protests.

"The case is coming up for hearing in the Supreme Court tomorrow (Tuesday) and we will present our arguments more forcefully," he said. He said it was inevitable for Karnataka to release 5,000 cusecs of water each day to Tamil Nadu up to September 26 after the SC rejected the state's petition.

TN had asked for 24,000 cusecs and then sought release of 7,500 cusecs and its petition was also rejected by the apex court, he said. Now, after September 26, the state will again approach the Cauvery Water Management Authority (CWMA) and make it clear that they cannot release water, he said. Rejecting the opposition allegations that the state did not argue its case effectively, the CM accused BJP and JDS of politicising the issue.

"I can understand farmers' anger and respect farmers and Kannada activists who have called for bandh and protests. Our government will not suppress their agitation. But, at the same time, it has come to government's notice that leaders of some political parties are trying to instigate people by giving false information," he said.

The CM said the state government is committed to protecting the farmers' interests and resolving the crisis. Since the issue is in the courts and before the CWMA, the government has to take decisions responsibly, he said.

Siddaramaiah said when it comes to land, water, and language issues, they should think beyond the party lines. "... The opposition parties are now demanding my resignation. Why they did not say it in the all-party leaders meeting?" the CM said.

They need to handle the issue sensitively by respecting the court orders and protecting the state's interests. The government is making all efforts in that direction and taking decisions based on suggestions given by legal and irrigation experts, he added.

DyCM DK Shivakumar said the government will cooperate if the protest is for the welfare of the state. "We are not going to cause hinderance to the protest. But they should ensure that this will not damage property or disturb peace. We need to stand united for land, water and language" he said. "At present, the issue is before the Court, what if the court order comes in our favour. Just to be in limelight, one should not protest" he added.

DKS needs to be more serious about Cauvery issue: Kurubur

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

FARMER leader Kurubur Shantakumar on Monday accused Deputy Chief Minister and Water Resources Minister DK Shivakumar of not being serious enough over the Cauvery water issue.

Talking to The New Indian Express, he said Shivakumar is saddled with too many responsibilities. Apart from being the deputy chief minister and water resources minister, he is also the Bengaluru incharge minister and president of the state Congress. This has not allowed him to dedicate the required time to the Cauvery issue, Shantakumar said.

"Recently, we were protesting in Mysuru and the government had already started releasing water three days previously. But Chief Minister Siddaramaiah said he was not aware of it. I am not blaming Shivakumar. He has too many responsibilities on his shoulders. Where is the need to burden a person with so much work," he asked.

"I have heard that when Cauvery meetings are called with the legal team in New Delhi, Karnataka authorities have attended them through video-conferencing. They should go to Delhi and hold talks. There are no shortcuts. If the state government had issues with finances, we could have collected money from farmers and given it to them to buy tickets to go to Delhi," he said sarcastically.

But legal experts, who were earlier part of the Karnataka legal team that fought the Cauvery issue and who now practice at the Supreme Court and several high courts, disagreed with Shantakumar's statement.

"What is the need to go to Delhi to the Supreme Court when it can be done online? Even in constitutional matters, senior counsel in the Supreme Court have argued matters online using technology. It is just as effective and no one can fault Shivakumar or his team for that," they said.

Another farmer leader Kodihalli Chandrashekar said, "Shivakumar could have been more serious and discreet about the Cauvery issue. When the meteorological department warned that there could be substantially less rainfall this year, they could have been alert and not released water.''

Meanwhile, Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee working president and chief whip in the Council Saleem Ahmed said, "It is wrong to blame anyone here. BJP has 25 MPs, five ministers and how is it they have not helped? How is it that PM Modi did not give us time to discuss Cauvery."

Meanwhile, political analyst BS Murthy said, "The government should not have let the situation come to this pass. They should have taken a reconciliatory approach.''

Analysts too said the government should not have allowed the narrative to go against it.

Actors Leelavathi and Vinod Raj join the protest in Mandya on Monday in support of Raitha Hitarakshana Samiti against the release of Cauvery water to TN | KPN

PROTESTS CONTINUE IN CAUVERY HEARTLAND

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mysuru

FARMERS and people of Mandya on Monday intensified their protest against the release of Cauvery water to Tamil Nadu by taking out a rally wearing their inner wear -- striped Bermuda shorts that are normally worn by farmers. They were led by BJP leaders BY Vijayendra and Dr CN Ashwath Narayan.

The protesters walked on main streets of Mandya and raised slogans against Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar for taking a hasty decision by releasing water and pushing state farmers into distress.

Vijayendra said the release of water to TN has resulted in a major crisis in Karnataka. "Actor Ambareesh resigned in 2002 and 2007 as MP over the Cauvery issue. The present Congress government in the state is self-centred and is pleasing its ally DMK at the cost of Karnataka farmers by discharging water overnight," he said.

He said the Congress leaders taking out a padayatra ahead of the recent Assembly elections over the Mekedatu issue promising to protect farmers was a big joke. "BJP will extend all support to the Cauvery stir as Karnataka has been at the receiving end for years," he added.

Former DyCM Ashwath Narayan said that the Karnataka government should hold talks with the Tamil Nadu government during distress. He demanded a compensation of Rs 25,000 per acre to farmers, waive farm loans and immediately stop discharge of water to TN. The BJP leaders felt that the State Government should have appealed to the Cauvery Water Management Authority to send an expert team to study the ground situation before releasing water to TN.

Actor Vinod Raj, who was present along with his mother and actress Leelavathi, said that a distress formula to share water was the need of the hour. In Mysuru, members of Cauvery Kriya Samithi led by MLC Manje Gowda staged a protest at KR Circle. Members of Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha activists staged protests by blocking bridges across the Kapila river. Farmers also gheraoed minister HC Mahadevappa.

BJP EXTENDS SUPPORT TO B'LURU BANDH

Senior BJP leader B S Yediyurappa on Monday said his party would extend cooperation to the Bengaluru bandh. "The bandh will be successful," the former CM said and appealed to the hotel owners and other associations to close hotels and shops from 6 am to 6 pm on Tuesday and cooperate with the bandh. In case anyone creates confusion by opening shops and hotels, they will be responsible for hindrance that will be caused to law and order, he said. He appealed to everyone to cooperate in the success of the bandh. The BJP has planned a 'satyagraha' protest in front of the Gandhi statue at Vidhana Soudha on September 27, the former chief minister said.

CONG CANDIDATES FOR LS POLLS BY JAN: DKS

BENGALURU: Congress in Karnataka will finalise and release names of candidates contesting the Lok Sabha polls before January 2024, said Deputy CM DK Shivakumar here on Monday. He said the party has appointed ministers as observers for each Lok Sabha constituency. "But 2-3 ministers will not be observers. Industry Minister MB Patil is out of the country and Power Minister KJ George is part of the central committee. We hope to get reports from these seats in 10 days. Each may pick two to three names," he said Some leaders in BJP and JDS are unhappy with the alliance between the two parties and they are planning to join Congress. "I will discuss it with Chief Minister Siddaramiah and other cabinet ministers. We have told them to enrol at the worker level," he said. ENS

BJP MP, Cong MLA abuse each other

V VELAYUDHAM @ Kolar

KOLAR BJP MP S Muniswamy and Bangarpet Congress MLA SN Narayanaswamy got into a heated argument and almost came to blows on the dais at the first district-level Janata Darshan, even as district in-charge minister Byrati Suresh chaired the event in Kolar on Monday.

Kolar SP M Narayan acted swiftly and pulled Muniswamy away before the altercation got uglier. Soon after the shameful incident, the programme was wound up quickly.

It occurred at the Ranga Mandira hall during the Janata Darshan, where Byrati Suresh, district in-charge secretary Ekroop Kaur, senior district officials and legislators were present.

Narayanaswamy and Kolar MLA Kothur Manjunath were seated next to Suresh on the dais. As the programme progressed, Muniswamy submitted a memorandum to Suresh on the Srinivasapura forest issue, and told the minister that he is flanked by land encroachers (bhu kallaru iddare), referring to Narayanaswamy and Manjunath. This enraged Narayanaswamy and he protested loudly. Soon, the two were shouting and abusing each other.

When Muniswamy moved towards Narayanaswamy threateningly, the SP swiftly acted and pulled him away from the dais, even as Suresh tried to pacify them both.

Muniswamy was later pacified by high-level district officials and he returned to the stage and addressed the meeting. A video of the altercation went viral on social media.

District in-charge minister Byrati Suresh, while talking to reporters after the event, said it was shameful that elected representatives acted in such a manner. The programme was for the benefit of the people and it was the bounden duty of MPs and MLAs to respond positively. They should keep away from their personal issues and work for the development of the district. "I will talk to both of them. I hope such incidents do not recur in the future," he added.

Janata Darshans see over 6,684 petitions

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

FOR the first time, Janata Darshan was held simultaneously in all the districts in Karnataka, except two districts, on Monday. Janata Darshan will be held in Gadag and Belagavi districts on Tuesday.

Elected representatives, including MLAs and MPs participated in Janata Darshan held by the district in-charge ministers.

According to a statement issued by the Chief Minister's Office (CMO), until 6.30 pm, 6,684 complaints and grievances have been received across Karnataka and 21 have been redressed on the spot.

The remaining 6,663 applications have been registered and forwarded to the officials concerned.

The highest number of complaints were concerning the Revenue Department at 2,100. RDPR department received over 1,000 complaints.

BJP to form own alliance to face LS polls in TN

But says DMK continues to be political enemy, and not AIADMK

AIADMK spokesperson D Jayakumar and deputy general secretary KP Munusamy speak to the media in Chennai on Monday | P JAWAHAR

T MURUGANANDHAM @ Chennai

FOLLOWING AIADMK's decision to snap ties with BJP, senior leaders of the saffron party in Tamil Nadu reacted very cautiously to the development though certain young functionaries made sharp comments on social media. BJP state general secretary Raama Srinivasan told TNIE that though the AIADMK's decision was unfortunate, the BJP would form its own alliance by joining hands with like-minded parties and face the 2024 Lok Sabha elections like it did in 2014.

"Already, many parties came into the NDA and a few left. Now, the AIADMK has left us. We will not lose our morale by this. There is no doubt we will face the Lok Sabha polls by forming our own alliance. We have experience with this in 2014," Srinivasan said.

On AIADMK's charge on BJP state president K Annamalai for leaving NDA, Srinivasan said, "We can't accept that. The AIADMK has faulted only Annamalai. How can they decide about an alliance just for his remarks? The AIADMK has committed a historical blunder just for individual contradictions. But we don't have any anger towards the party. The BJP is firm on its conviction that the DMK is our political enemy and not the AIADMK. To throw away the DMK government disliked by the people, AIADMK would need BJP. Saying they don't need BJP will indeed help DMK at the hustings."

Just after the AIADMK's announcement, BJP functionaries put out harsh responses on social media. However, they deleted the posts after state BJP general secretary (organisation) Kesava Vinayakan instructed the office-bearers not to react to the development. CT Ravi, who was in charge of the BJP affairs in Tamil Nadu until recently, said, "There are eight more months and we can't say what will happen in these months."

> There are eight more months and we can't say what will happen in these months
>
> CT Ravi, senior BJP leader

BJP sources expressed confidence that in the event of forming a separate alliance, parties like DMDK, AMMK, AIADMK faction led by O Panneerselvam, Indhiya Jananayaka Katchi and Thamizhaga Munnetra Kazhagam led by John Pandian might join the alliance. In 2014, the BJP-led NDA formed a separate alliance composed of DMDK, PMK, MDMK, IJK, KMDK and New Justice Party. This alliance won two seats out of the 39.

Annamalai is confidence that the party has grown to the level of winning more than 25 Lok Sabha seats in Tamil Nadu since the Centre's welfare schemes have reached most families in the state. Besides, he has been undertaking a state-wide yatra for the past two months aiming at the growth of the party ahead of the Lok Sabha elections.

DMK may have to return to drawing board

S KUMARESAN @ Chennai

AIADMK's decision to end the alliance with BJP could mean the ruling DMK has to rework the strategy against its principal rival. DMK's attack on AIADMK in recent years was centred around the latter's ties with BJP. AIADMK was termed as BJP's 'slaves' and minister Udhayanidhi Stalin referred to BJP leader Amit Shah as AIADMK's "owner".

The narrative may lose steam now and this will give DMK fresh homework in countering its main rival. DMK in recent years has positioned itself as an anti-establishment force against BJP, which is in power at the Centre, and AIADMK a meek support of the saffron party. This had worked so far well and the DMK-led alliance won in a series of polls.

Veteran political observer D Karthik said with the DMK losing a potent weapon, it has to now focus solely on BJP since the 2024 polls is about who forms the Union Government. "If the DMK-led alliance were to accuse the AIADMK of any shortcomings in the state solely because of its alliance with BJP, the AIADMK could counter by highlighting the DMK's past alliances with the Congress, which led to the introduction of NEET and ban on Jallikattu."

On the other hand, AIADMK has to work harder to consolidate the anti-incumbency votes and not to lose them to BJP. However, leaders in the DMK-led alliance maintain that they still believe the AIADMK-BJP ties are not over. D Ravikumar, VCK leader and MP from Villupuram, told TNIE, "I believe their decision may not be permanent. They are primarily concerned with issues related to state leadership. If the national leadership intervenes and addresses these concerns, AIADMK might reconsider its decision."

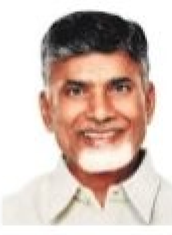
Spl court defers Naidu's bail petition

ENS @ Vijayawada

THE special court for ACB posted the hearing of the bail petition filed by former chief minister N Chandrababu Naidu and also the petition filed by the CID seeking his five-day custody, to Tuesday.

Naidu's counsel and the CID argued as to which petition the court shall hear first, one for bail or custody, after which the court posted the matter for hearing to Tuesday. In the custody petition, the CID said Naidu did not cooperate with the investigating officers. "The obstructional attitude of the accuse thwarted any legitimate attempt of the investigating agency to proceed further in the matter," the CID said.

Earlier, the CID filed a petition seeking custody of Naidu to which his counsels objected and wanted their petition for bail, which was filed a few days back, to be heard first. The CID counsels informed that it is general practice that bail petition is heard after custody petition.



The CID informed the court that Naidu was maintaining silence even after he was questioned with evidence. When Naidu's counsel insisted that the bail petition be heard first, the judge said they can not insist the court to hear a particular petition and posted both the petitions for hearing tomorrow. Later, the court heard Naidu's petition to ascertain the call record details of the CID officials prior to the arrest of the former chief minister.

In the custody petition, the CID informed the court of Naidu's non-cooperative attitude. "The A37 stonewalled the queries of the IO by questioning the police custody issued by the court," the CID said, adding that Naidu insisted that he would not give answers until he goes through the content of the order. The CID said Naidu, by taking advantage of his position as a former CM, did not even allow the line of questioning.

Bhuvaneswari deplores arrest of Naidu

Nara Bhuvaneswari, wife of TDP supremo N Chandrababu Naidu, claimed that her family never craves for other people's money. Participating in a protest by women and local TDP leaders against the arrest of Naidu at Jaggampeta, Bhuvaneswari said that her husband never committed any mistake in his political life. "Even if 2 per cent share of the Heritage company is sold, we will get Rs 400 crore. Where is the need for Naidu to resort to swindling Rs 371 crore?" she questioned. Bhuvaneswari expressed confidence that Naidu, who has an impeccable record, will soon come out clean and will start working for the development of Andhra Pradesh.

Kalyan's yatra to commence on October 1

S GURU SRIKANTH @ Vijayawada

THE fourth phase of Jana Sena Party chief Pawan Kalyan's Vaarahi Yatra is all set to commence on October 1 and the initial schedule for the same was finalised by JSP political affairs committee chairman Nadendla Manohar during a teleconference with party leaders of the undivided Krishna district.

It assumes significance, as Kalyan will be going among st public for the first time, after his announcement of a poll alliance with TDP. After meeting TDP chief N Chandrababu Naidu in Rajamahendravaram Central Jail, the JSP chief announced his decision.

Sources say that Kalyan might be focusing on the 'illegal arrest' of Naidu and Jagan's 'vindictive politics'. However, it appears that he is on a slippery wicket now, given that the ACB court has extended his judicial custody, and the high court has chucked out his quash plea on the CID case against him in regard to the Rs 371 crore skill development scam. However, they maintained that the JSP programme will remain JSP's and it will continue as conceived earlier with a focus on shoring up support for the party.

Merger or alliance: Sharmila sets deadline for Cong to finalise deal

HYDERABAD: After her meeting with key leaders of her party, YSRTP president YS Sharmila on Monday set September 30 deadline for the Congress to finalise the merger or alliance deal. If nothing is finalised by the end of this month, the YSRTP will field candidates in all 119 constituencies in the upcoming Assembly elections, she said. During the meeting, held at her Lotus Pond residence in Hyderabad, the party discussed various issues, including the current political situation as well as its plans and preparations for the elections. Addressing the gathering, she said: "As the election notification will be issued soon, any possibility of working with the Congress has to be finalised by the end of September. If no agreement is reached by that time, we will contest in all 119 constituencies." Sharmila also revealed her plan to tour Telangana, covering all Assembly segments, from the second week of October. During the meeting, she also assured the cadre that their efforts will be recognised and that their interests will be protected. ENS

Ban new engg colleges in metros: K'taka to AICTE

PURAN CHOUDHARY @ Bengaluru

HIGHER Education Minister MC Sudhakar has written a letter to the chairman of regulatory body All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE) to make stringent rules for permission to engineering colleges and regulate the growth of private engineering and technical institutions in metros by banning new colleges for three years.

The letter has sought AICTE to control the increase of seats, especially in IT-related courses in private universities in the state, as universities and colleges offering technical education in tier-2 and 3 cities are facing challenges in running the institutions. "Since there is a severe migration of teachers to tier-1 cities, resulting in a shortage of faculty, the quality of education is deteriorating, having a cascading effect on admissions in rural areas," read the letter.

Sudhakar added that if the trend continues, gradually, all the good private and government institutes in rural areas will not survive, affecting students who cannot afford colleges in metros. "Uncontrolled increase in seats, especially in IT-related courses in private universities, are creating problems with employment opportunities as industry demand and supply do not synchronise, creating an imbalance," he said. The minister wants AICTE to make state government permission compulsory to increase or decrease seats in colleges.

Hitting back at the government, AICTE Chairman TG Sitharam on September 22 said that state private universities offering engineering courses do not fall under the ambit of AICTE. "Hence, the council cannot exercise its regulations over them. AICTE is not permitting its approved institutions to close courses under core engineering or start courses," he added.

> AICTE is not permitting its approved institutions to close courses under core engineering or start courses
> TG Sitharam, Chairman, AICTE

The Karnataka government has asked to penalise violation of norms and requirements so that there are no changes in the number of seats offered under different courses. The other recommendations include restricting the starting of new engineering colleges and promoting traditional courses for their survival under multidisciplinary courses.

Sitharam added that the authority goes forward with new institutions only after a stamped receipt is received from the states. "For existing institutions to start new courses, the council had made it mandatory that NOC from the affiliating body needs to be produced. Also, those institutions with eligible courses accredited by NBA are only permitted to add new courses," he said.

ADGP Paul gets bail in PSI recruitment scam

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE High Court of Karnataka on Monday granted bail to ADGP Amrit Paul in the police sub-inspectors' recruitment scam. He was arrested by the CID on July 4, 2022.

Justice Mohammad Nawaz pronounced the order, which was reserved, after hearing Paul's bail petition. Paul is accused No 35 in the case.

While granting bail, the court ordered Paul to execute a personal bond of Rs 5 lakh with two sureties of equal amount, furnish address proof, not to induce the witnesses directly or indirectly and travel outside India without the court's permission. Also, the court made it clear that Paul should cooperate with the investigating officers, appear before the trial court on all dates of hearing and should not tamper with prosecution witnesses and intimidate or influence any investigating officers.

The decision may have political ramifications, especially during the election, as the BRS may see it as yet another attempt by the BJP government at the Centre to trouble its government.

PSI scam: No recruitment till panel completes probe

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

THE one-man judicial commission conducting an inquiry into the Police Sub Inspector (PSI) recruitment scam that was uncovered last year during the BJP regime, is facing "non-cooperation" from the respondents, causing a hindrance to the probe. With this, the government, which is facing a shortage of police personnel, will take longer to start recruitment.

In July this year, the government constituted the judicial commission headed by retired judge Justice Veerappa, and gave the panel three months to complete the probe.

Sources in the government told The New Indian Express that though the commission was constituted in July, it was given an office and staff only last month, resulting in a delay. Soon after it assumed office in August, the commission issued a notification, inviting people to furnish information on the recruitment of 545 PSI. However, they received hardly ten responses. Meanwhile, the CID SP filed a petition against 113 individuals who were made respondents, including candidates who were allegedly involved in malpractice, college or school owners where exams was conducted, and police officials. The Veerappa Commission sent notice to the 113 individuals to file objections, and of them, 82 people filed objections.

Justice Veerappa told TNIE that they are recording affidavit evidence from the petitioner (SP, CID) and respondents. "Though the respondents are filing through their advocates, there is non-cooperation as they are delaying evidence," he said. Soon after taking charge, they expedited the process. "Only if everything goes well, we can finish early," he said.

Notably, a few weeks ago, Home Minister G Parameshwara had stated that the state government would not make new recruitments till the probe is complete. He said they had sent a proposal to recruit 400 PSIs, but cannot do so until the recruitment of 545 PSIs is pending. "We will recruit altogether after the probe is completed," he stated.

The PSI recruitment exams were held in seven centres in October 2021. The case came to light when an examination centre (school) owned by a local BJP leader in Kalaburagi facilitated cheating, and the owner was arrested. This led to political turmoil in Karnataka, and the then BJP government handed over the case to the CID for investigation, though the Congress was stressing for an independent agency probe.

In all, seven FIRs were registered at various police stations in Bengaluru, Kalaburagi, Hubballi-Dharwad and Tumakuru. The CID arrested several persons, including senior IPS officer Amrit Paul, who was ADGP, Recruitment, in July last year. He got bail on Monday.

LAKKUNDI NEXT FOR WORLD HERITAGE SITE LIST: HK PATIL

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

TOURISM and Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister HK Patil on Monday said the state government will now propose to add Lakkundi in Gadag to the list of World Heritage Sites. Hampi, Pattadakal and Western Ghats, now Belur, Halebidu and Somanathapura temples are on the list.

Patil said the tentative plan will be prepared and sent to the central government for clearance. The proposal for the site was drafted by Gadag Tourism Development Committee, comprising 16 members. Patil said he was looking at the restoration, protection and conservation of the sites.

Lakkundi is a prime spot, but homes are constructed in the temple premises and people live there. It has historical importance, and the committee has highlighted its potential in the report, he said.

He was speaking on the sidelines of the inauguration of 'Our Monument: Our Heritage, Our Identity, Our Pride' interaction and digital platform, Namma Smaraka, organised by the departments of Tourism, and Archaeology, Museums and Heritage, to help companies and individuals adopt a heritage site to maintain and protect it.

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and Tourism Minister HK Patil inaugurate the 'Our Monument: Our Heritage, Our Identity, Our Pride' interaction and digital campaign in Bengaluru on Monday | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

He said the government has notified 844 sites in the state, but commitment and the notification have remained on paper. To ensure the sites are protected, in the first phase, 248 sites are being put up on the portal for adoption and protection, as part of Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR). He said there are around 10,000 sites in the state that need to be protected to draw tourists. The government alone cannot protect them, and requires involvement of all stakeholders.

Patil highlighted that Yellamanagudda, in Belagavi, Saundatti, drew 1.25 crore tourists this year, which is the highest footfall to any site in the state. This is despite the site not being maintained. He added that the spike in footfall is also because of the Shakti scheme, which has helped many women travel.

Various organisations signed MoUs for adopting sites, with Brigade Foundation signing up for renovation of Venkatappa Art Gallery in Bengaluru. Minister Patil participated in the panel discussion with various organisations and stake holders. They highlighted hurdles in seeking permission for restoration, tax exemption in section 80-G, streamlining and easing the adoption process.

'Tourism will aid growth'

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah said a boost to tourism will help grow the state's economy and country's GDP. If the public joins hands with the government to protect monuments, Karnataka's history and heritage can be passed on to the next generation, he said. Stating that 60 lakh women have travelled under the Shakti scheme, he said one of the reasons for introducing the scheme was to encourage women to travel and explore various destinations.

GOVT BONDS TO DRAW MORE GLOBAL FUNDS, CUT BORROWING COST

IT took over a decade of efforts for Indian government bonds to get included in a global bond index. The discussions began in 2013, and over the next 10 years the government removed one hurdle after another to finally convince JP Morgan, the largest bank in the US, to include Indian government bonds (G-secs) in its emerging market bond index. They will be included in June 2024, and over the next 10 months, the weightage of G-secs in the index would reach 10 percent. The inclusion is another step towards globalisation of the Indian financial market. While this is largely a positive development for India—ensuring stable foreign fund inflows, lower bond yields and a stronger rupee—it also means a closer scrutiny of government finances by global investors.

The JP Morgan GBI EM—which includes G-secs from China, Indonesia, Mexico, Brazil and Malaysia—is a benchmark used to invest $236 billion in global funds. A weightage of 10 percent might translate into $23.6 billion worth of foreign fund inflows into Indian G-secs by March 2025. It is also likely to trigger inclusion in other indices over the next few years, which might result in inflows of another $7-10 billion. In the medium term, Indian G-secs stand to attract $30-35 billion foreign inflows. This would mean lower borrowing costs for the government. The government will now have another steady source to finance its fiscal and trade deficits. Higher foreign inflows will make the Indian rupee stronger. Some foreign investors might start investing in G-secs ahead of the inclusion next June. This may shield the rupee against the impact of higher crude oil prices and equity market outflows.

More foreign funds also mean freeing up domestic funds for private sector lending. It's estimated that the government sucks out three-fifths of domestic capital, leaving very little for Indian companies. Foreign inflows would free up some of this capital and make private sector borrowing cheaper. All this comes with its own risks. Higher exposure of foreign funds to Indian G-secs will raise the risk of massive outflows and inflows, increasing volatility in the bond and foreign exchange markets. The RBI and the government will have to deal with this. While the central bank would have to intervene more in the markets, the government will have to be on its toes to keep its fiscal house in order.

VOLLEYBALL SUCCESS DESPITE SYSTEM FAILURE

#IsBaar100KePaar (Beyond hundred this year). That is how the Hangzhou Asian Games 2022 are being projected in India. Even before the Games, broadcasters aired a promo with a cast that included sportspersons, media experts and, of course, the sports minister. India had brought back a haul of seventy from Jakarta 2018. Two days into the current Games, with India having won eleven medals by the end of Monday, the hundred seems within reach. The shooters and the rowers started the party, but we have to doff our hat at the volleyball team. Their performance shows that talent is not what India lacks. India, ranked 73rd in the world, beat much higher-ranked teams—South Korea, the 2018 Games silver medallist, and Chinese Taipei, who won the 2018 bronze—to advance to the quarterfinals. They eventually lost to world number five Japan and will play Pakistan for the fifth place.

All this despite several issues plaguing the sport before the Indian Olympic Association formed an ad hoc committee this June. They were supported by the international volleyball federation (FIVB) and the Sports Authority of India. The Indian federation was troubled by the usual mix of infighting, drama and intrigue. If the Games were held last year, there was a chance that the team would not have featured. The federation's bitter court battle with the Prime Volleyball League, which has helped players continue their craft with some monetary benefit, complicated matters. The federation barred players from the league to represent India and held tournaments, which were the gateway to the Indian team, at the same time as the league last year. After the intervention, most players and coaches who are in Hangzhou are part of the league. Now, hopefully, Indian volleyball will be able to climb back to the heights of the 1980s, when we won medals at the Asiad.

The rowing team finished with five medals, which is better than in 2018 and 2014. With seasoned administrators headed by Rajlaxmi Singh Deo at the helm, the rowing federation has had a proper long-term development programme and a bunch of 21 rowers won five medals this time. India had won five medals at the 2010 Games too, though that tally included one gold. These contrasting tales are proof that, with the right organisational support and facilities, there is no sport in which Indians cannot shine. We hope the lessons are being learnt.

QUICK TAKE

PLAN AGAINST FOOD INFLATION

THE US weather agency has predicted that El Niño effects will last through the coming winter. A warmer winter will affect India's rabi crops. We have already had an erratic monsoon—it arrived late, deluged us in July, and then gave us the driest August in more than a century. Rainfall is still a tenth lower than normal, making it difficult to predict the kharif harvest. India has curbed rice, sugar and onion exports to brace against shortfalls. If the weather messes with the rabi crops too, food prices may rise at election time. The Food Corporation of India needs to immediately add to its grains stock, which is at a six-year low.

The world thinks bandhs are a peculiar South Asian phenomenon—when everything is shut down and public infrastructure is set afire. But we have a new choice now

DO NOT TAKE TO THE STREETS, E-PROTEST INSTEAD

HARISH BIJOOR

SOUMYADIP SINHA

I grew up surrounded by a culture of bandhs. As a kid, I used to enjoy a bandh thoroughly. When for whatever reason a shutdown was announced, the first thing to look forward to was a school holiday. Children were the first ones to be protected from the ruckus that would or would not happen on the streets. Public transport was always the first target of a bandh. Those who dared to disobey the call faced a barrage of stones and worse still, rioters torched public transport—which at the end of it belonged to us all.

Now, what is a bandh? Wikipedia defines it as, "A form of protest used by political activists in South Asian countries such as India and Nepal. It is similar to a general strike. During a bandh, a political party or a community declares a general strike." Ouch. Bandh seems to have a specific geography. And in this case, it is all about India and Nepal. Strange.

As an adult now, my understanding of bandh is a day when a city or a state decides to shut down to show solidarity to protest something or to mourn an unfortunate event. Earlier this month, a rather unsuccessful bandh in Bengaluru was held to protest the loss of business for auto rickshaw and private transport operators due to the implementation of the Karnataka government's Shakti Scheme, which provides free bus travel for women in the state. And today, even as you read this, Bengaluru city is possibly witnessing one more shutdown. This time, to protest the state government's decision to release Cauvery water into Tamil Nadu. My guess is that more such bandhs are in the queue.

Bandh is not a phenomenon restricted to a single state in India. It happens across the country. But then it dawned upon me that bandh is all about a yesterday we have been through. Been there, done that. A yesterday that believed in demonstrative protests which had the attention of all riveted to the cause in question. Over the last two decades, if you look at the number of bandh calls, you will see that they have decreased for sure. The belief in the system is vanishing. Protest possibly has new ways. Protest used as a tool to cause discomfort to the common man on the street is something we believe less in.

I do believe we have started respecting public space much more. While we still fight within our homes, as we must, we refuse to let our discontent spill into the streets. We do believe that the public space belongs to us all and not one entity, organisation or cause. And when that is the case, protest must be expressed in a different manner altogether. In a manner that does not inconvenience anyone. In a manner that does not inconvenience people at railway stations and bus stops. Schools must be open. Offices must function. Public services must not be disturbed. The poor and impoverished need to earn their daily wages and so must not be disturbed. Shops need to remain open to sell to their customers, just as restaurants need to be able to dish out their fares to make their businesses tick. A bandh really disturbs all this.

Bandh is, therefore, an antediluvian instrument. A sabre that is rattled often, but thankfully, less often now than before. A little rattling is enough to make an entire set of people, businesses and transport options go into a half-closure mode, if not full. Must we allow this sabre-rattling to continue at all? Or should it be put back into the sheath of yesterday that it belongs to? Do bandhs misuse a form of protest that is not really necessary anymore?

What does it achieve? Typically, it brings the common cause or memory to the fore. It showcases the intent of those who are behind the call. It accords prominence to the cause in the media. And that's where the positive and semi-positives stop. Then begin the negatives. A bandh is bad for business and business sentiments too. A city that goes into bandh mode too often is marked by businesses as a geography to steer clear of.

Protest we must. Is there an alternative way to do so then? Is there another way to work towards a good cause or mourn a great soul? In an era where we are progressively going digital, the e-protest just may be the way to go. Grab the cause at hand. Reveal who is behind the cause. Put together the photographs and names of all those who wish to be seen as lead protesters. Record grievances. Pass out videos to energise the cause. Put it all out there in the public domain using social media like Instagram, Twitter, Facebook and WhatsApp. The beauty of an e-protest is the fact that arson is never an option. Stopping someone from going about their life in the public space is never an option. Disturbing the peace and quiet is not an option. Compelling businesses to close is not an option. Disrupting life is not an option.

Strangely, protesting on e-platforms is possibly the most peaceful option at hand for us. Maybe we need a protest app which can reach all within a city, but one which just cannot disrupt the life of any one of those citizens. If not today, I think e-protest is the way to support a cause in the future. Peaceful protest is the way. Non-violent protest is the way. Protest without inconveniencing a citizen on the street is the right way. What better way than the e-way to do this?

In the old days, a factory strike meant a tools-down protest. On some days, this was used selectively for a couple of hours to impress upon the management what could happen with a full-scale tools-down protest. More often than not, it worked. Factory productivity would get hit and the owners woke up to the cause and the issue at hand to resolve. A tools-down strike in this digital day and age is an internet-down bandh. I guess even that shall happen. One day or the other. Till then, wishing you a happy and peaceful bandh!

WHEN PARLIAMENT WALLS ARE SPLATTERED WITH GRAFFITI

C P SURENDRAN

Poet, novelist, and screenplay writer. His latest novel is One Love and the Many Lives of Osip B

LAST week, in his inaugural address in the new, state-of-the-art parliament building, Prime Minister Narendra Modi said, in words to that effect, that the vision of a new, grand India cannot be done on old canvases. Just hours later, Ramesh Bidhuri, a Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) MP from Tughlakabad in Delhi, verbally sprayed that visionary canvas with graffiti.

In the mean dark streets of India's big cities, on the walls of tunnels, in the washrooms of schools and trains, in places where we are the most alone and, ironically, the most free to exercise our right to speech, graffiti takes over. And I am talking about graffiti at its worst. We begin to express ourselves in terms of extreme judgements. Our rejection of the unfair world—in four-letter words.

This kind of graffiti I'm talking about never explains the process of thought. It usually consists of monosyllabic conclusions. Abuses. An expletive is an opinion at its purest. It is condemnation of a person or thing at its most basic level, and beyond reconsideration or redemption—like social media lynching, the hashtag being the graffiti sign. It is the version of truth that suits your inclinations. The world is an echo chamber of whatever we would like to believe in.

Often, graffiti as a word or a drawing could be a bare wish or the equivalent of a dire, if wishful, sentence. It is the 'writer' as the executioner. It was in a school bathroom that I learned a classmate of mine would like me to be roasted in hellfires. My name was equated with an expletive on the wall. Below that was a body, a horizontal line with a bulbous head, resting uneasily on vertical lines, a makeshift pyre.

Verbal communication began over 150,000 years ago and evolved into written language 6,000 years ago. Graffiti as an aspect of the imagination has stayed with us through all those transitions. I mention these esoteric beginnings of speech because I believe we are possibly going back to them.

Ramesh Bidhuri has been thrice an MLA in the Delhi assembly and twice an MP. According to reports, he goes out of his way to help his constituents. Bidhuri has very deep connections with the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh. He is, from his sayings and doings, a Sanatani Hindu, a staunch believer in the shastras, in the abiding values of good manners and conduct, and an exponent of the Sanskritic way of life. Yet the language he used in parliament while answering Kunwar Danish Ali, a Bahujan Samaj Party MP from Uttar Pradesh, is unlikely to make his Vedic forefathers proud.

Perhaps there is a reason why Bidhuri resorted to the prehistoric graffiti aspect of the imagination. In his speech earlier, Danish Ali, congratulating the Indian Space Research Organisation on the Chandrayaan 3 achievements, credited Jawaharlal Nehru and other successive prime ministers, most of them belonging to the Congress party, for laying the groundwork of India's rocket program, thus denting the halo around Narendra Modi as Chandrayaan's only benefactor.

ANI

We seem to be using a graffiti-like language in a culture war. By abusing another member with vile words, Ramesh Bidhuri has made parliament an extension of chthonic spaces. It is a clash of civilisations

In passing, Danish Ali also ridiculed the Indian Institute of Technology-Mandi director, who reportedly attributed the recent deluge and landslides and resultant deaths in that state to the consumption of non-vegetarian food.

In Clash of Civilizations, Samuel Huntington's thesis is that post-Cold War, it is not countries that go to war so much as cultures and religions. Certainly, within India, there is a clash of civilisations happening between the indigenous and Abrahamic religions. Shorn of euphemisms, a war of sorts between Hinduism and Islam. One of the casualties of this conflict has been language. The entire discourse of Hindu revivalist politics could be seen as a series of efforts to achieve a supremacy of culture and heritage, a militant correction in a perceived imbalance.

The frequent renaming of cities, roads and railway stations is a part of that culture war. It is rewriting history ground up towards the first myths. It is a safe bet that the most eloquent BJP politicians, including the prime minister, take pains to avoid the usage of Urdu words in their public speeches. The official Hindu is returning to his/her myths and recreating the mythical space, for it is pure—because there is no Muslim there.

It is altogether another question where they should be. The popular refrain directed at those who differ from a majoritarian idea of India, 'Go to Pakistan', is an indication of people being literally shown their places. Indeed, pretty much the words Bidhuri used, such as Mullah, ugravadi, etc., speak for themselves.

It is also true that the words were later expunged and that senior BJP leaders like Rajnath Singh expressed regret on behalf of his party. But Bidhuri showed what his party is thinking in its personal spaces, and that parliament could be conceived to be a formal extension of those somewhat chthonic spaces.

In The Politics of Language, David Beaver and Jason Stanley argue that the function of speech is moving towards attuning people to something, be it a shared reality, emotion or identity. It is increasingly a new aspect of the language to be at the service of the echo-chamber nature of a post-informational society. The new language of politics, as practised by elected representatives like Bidhuri, marks the legitimisation of the judgemental philosophy of graffiti and its graduation from private spaces like pissoirs to parliament.

Recently, I happened to read Manoj Mitta's Caste Pride, which deals with the constitutional and legislative battles of colonial and post-colonial India for a socially and politically more equitable India. As it happens, the book also gives you a clear idea of the quality of debates in legislative councils, assemblies and parliament. The depth and sweep of those times perhaps cannot be expected at play now, divorced as we are from those historic times of nation-building. But to bring it all down to the level of a few expletives is to say the idea of the debate itself is over, and that it is time to distribute the prizes.

Mission appreciation

As an ardent reader of your newspaper for over three decades, I am delighted at the unveiling of the Ramnath Goenka Sahithya Samman award in remembrance of an icon who was a torchbearer of truth in the fourth pillar of our democracy. His unforgettable line that Indian Express is not an industry but a mission must motivate future generations to adhere to the path of veracity.

SC junks plea against NEET-PG cutoff

CJI raises questions on petitioner's locus to challenge Centre to reduce cutoff to zero

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Monday upheld the Centre's decision to reduce the cutoff for post-graduate medical college admissions through NEET-PG 2023 exam to zero percentile.

"You have no locus...absent any interest of the petitioner in this case, the petition is dismissed," a bench led by CJI DY Chandrachud said.

Although the plea was not listed before the bench, also comprising Justices JB Pardiwala and Manoj Mishra, on Monday, the court agreed to consider the same after it was mentioned by a counsel.

"I'm only saying what kind of health facilities will they give? They'll be super specialists," the lawyer said while convincing the bench to consider the petition.

"What can a lawyer know about the cutoff for NEET-PG?" It's a busy body," CJI DY Chandrachud said while raising questions regarding the lawyer's locus to challenge the decision.

Although NEET-PG cutoff is 50 for students from general/unreserved categories, 45 for PwD and 40 for students of other reserved categories, the Health Ministry on September 20, amid the ongoing admission season, had directed the National Medical Commission (NMC) to reduce the cutoff for qualifying percentile for National Eligibility cum Entrance Test (NEET)-Post Graduate (PG) 2023 to "zero" across all categories.

The move will enable all those candidates who appeared for the test to go for the counselling. The decision has drawn criticism as many feel "mediocre medical students" will secure seats in specialised post-graduate courses jeopardising public health.

It was on September 22 that the Medical Counselling Committee (MCC) announced the decision of the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare to reduce the NEET-PG qualifying percentile.

"The qualifying percentile for NEET-PG counselling 2023 has been reduced to 'ZERO' across all categories by the MoHFW. In this regard, it is mentioned that Fresh Registration & Choice Filling for Round-3 of PG Counselling will be opened again for candidates who have become eligible after reduction of percentile," the notice from MCC said.

As per the ministry, reducing the qualifying percentile for NEET PG 2023 to zero will increase the pool of qualifying candidates but not dilute the merit system for admission to PG medical courses.

Sr IPS officer must probe slapgate: SC to UP govt

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Monday directed the UP government to appoint a senior IPS officer to monitor the probe into the Muzaffarnagar incident where a Muslim student was slapped by his classmates, on the instruction of the class teacher, as a punishment for poor performance.

Terming the incident as serious, a bench of Justices A S Oka and Pankaj Mithal said the UP government prima facie failed to comply with the provisions of the RTE Act and the UP Right of Children to Free and Compulsory Education Rules. "If allegations made by the victim's parents are correct, this is the worst kind of physical punishment imparted by the teacher… There can't be any quality education if a student is sought to be penalised only on the ground that he belongs to a particular community. There is a prima facie failure on part of the state to comply with RTE Act & rules framed there under," the bench said in its order. The court also directed the UP government to provide counselling to the victim and other students.

The SC's order came on a plea by Mahatma Gandhi's great grandson Tushar Gandhi, who sought an independent, probe and registration of FIR. Gandhi alleged the child's family is under pressure to strike a compromise. He told the court the police charged the teacher only under Section 75 of the Juvenile Justice Act, and Sections 323 and 504 of IPC that deal with cruelty to child and intentionally causing hurt, and not Section 153A of IPC for promoting enmity between different groups.

'Cheetah project achieved unbelievable milestones'

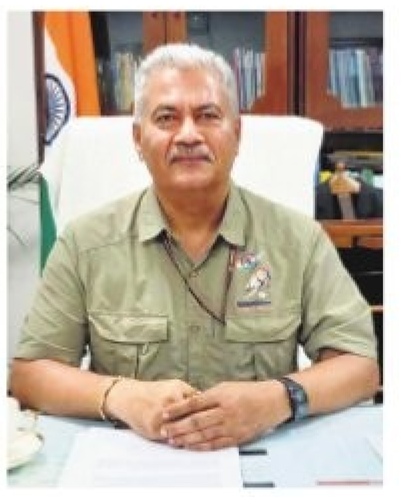
India completed one year of its Cheetah reintroduction project on September 17. The decision to "reintroduce" the locally extinct cheetah had created excitement. Six of the 20 cheetahs, translocated from Namibia and South Africa to Kuno died due to various reasons, and the project drew lot of criticism from wildlife experts. S P Yadav, Member Secretary of The National Tiger Conservation Authority and Head of the Cheetah Project, discussed with Jitendra Choubey on the journey of completing one year and challenges ahead.

The India cheetah project has completed one year. What is its current status?

One must realise that this marks the first intercontinental wild-to-wild translocation of any big carnivores. Encouragingly, the cheetahs are adapting rapidly, establishing their own home ranges, and no unnatural deaths have been reported thus far.

All cheetahs, including captive-reared cheetahs from Namibia, are adapting well. They have begun hunting in the wild, targeting not only their favorite prey, the Cheetal, but also other species such as the four-horned antelope.

Even more impressively, the cheetahs have established their ranges. Two of them ventured out of the forest to explore areas up to Sheopur National Park and the Uttar Pradesh borders, covering a range of approximately 200 km. We had to tranquilize one to bring it back to the forest after realising that managing and protecting them at such large distances wasn't feasible. Like other carnivores, cheetahs also establish territories, but no territorial fights have been reported. These are often overlooked realities.



Verbatim

We find this project to be quite successful, with no doubt about its success from a scientific perspective. It has achieved remarkable milestones.

Are there any examples of successful cheetah reintroduction in the wild?

South Africa provides a successful example. Cheetahs were on the brink of extinction in South Africa in the 1940s. They initiated a cheetah reintroduction programme in the 1960s, importing cheetahs from neighboring Namibia. It took 20 years to master the art of reintroducing cheetahs, and although they introduced 279 cheetahs, only 79 survived in the first 20 years. It remains one of the successful international programmes for conserving big carnivores.

India has a strong track record in conserving big cats, boasting the largest populations of tigers, leopards, and being home to Asiatic lions and snow leopards. We were also the first to successfully reintroduce tigers to Sariska and Panna tiger reserves.

What are the lessons for cheetah conservationists?

The recent deaths of three cheetahs have provided crucial lessons. Neither we nor our Namibian experts anticipated the impact of different climate conditions in two continents. Cheetahs transferred from the Southern Hemisphere to the Northern Hemisphere, or vice versa, experienced disruptions in their biological clocks, which are tuned to their respective climates.

Cheetahs typically develop a winter hair coat on their shoulders and necks during winter. However, in Kuno, the winter season coincided with heat, humidity, and rainfall, leading to problems. Tick infections over minor injuries created serious health issues.

ASI plans to hire more young archaeologists to document antiquities

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

THE Archaeological Survey of India (ASI) is set to begin another round of hiring 'young archaeologists' (YAs) to carry out documentation of 4.5 lakh antiquities, which are in its possession.

The details will be updated in the national database. Besides this, the 'young archaeologists' will also help for recording of unprotected about six lakh build heritage sites (BHS) in states and union territories. They will also conduct a primary survey and document them.

According to the Survey, it will provide a unique opportunity of exposure to survey, exploration, excavation, and research to the budding archaeologist. Under the engagement programme, the qualified individuals will work in different fields such as exploration, epigraphy, numismatics, survey, post-excavation analysis and heritage management, said ASI officials.

As per the hiring notice, the YAs will primarily do documentation of antiquities stored in field offices of the national watchdog of monuments. The ASI has 3,697 heritage sites in its notified protected-monument list.

The new recruits will also need to scrutinize the data generated by the field officers and other agencies which are having MoUs with the National Mission on Monuments and Antiquities.

The Mission has already documented nearly two lakh BHS so far. The agency officials said that a large number of unprotected monuments are facing threat of extinction due to the lack of proper documentation hence their survey and documentation is being planned.

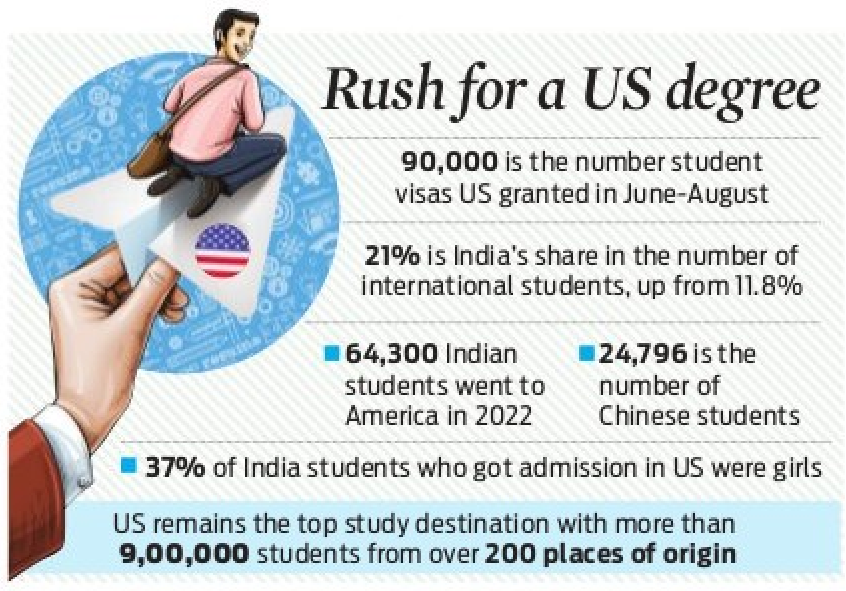
The notice stated that any person holding a master degree in Archaeology or Heritage Conservation from a recognized institute and below 34 years of age can apply.

The Mission was launched in 2007 for documentation and creation of a suitable database on built heritage and sites through published and unpublished secondary sources for information. The other objective was dissemination to planners and researchers and for better management of such cultural resources.

It promotes awareness and sensitizes people concerning the benefits of preserving the historical and cultural aspects of built heritage, sites and antiquities.

1 in 4 US student visas given in June-Aug goes to Indians

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi



Rush for a US degree

90,000 is the number student visas US granted in June-August

21% is India's share in the number of international students, up from 11.8%

- 64,300 Indian students went to America in 2022
- 24,796 is the number of Chinese students
- 37% of India students who got admission in US were girls

US remains the top study destination with more than 9,00,000 students from over 200 places of origin

THE US has issued a record number of visas to Indian students this summer as the country is going all out to get Indian students to study in American universities.

"The US mission in India has issued around 90,000 student visas for Indians this summer from June to August. This also means that one in every four students granted a US visa this year was in India," according the US Embassy in New Delhi.

India has surpassed China in the number of students getting admitted in universities across the US. According to estimates, in 2022 nearly 4,65,791 Indian students were studying in the US. India's share in the total number of international students had increased from 11.8 per cent to 21 per cent. India has surpassed China in sending more students to the United States in 2022, according to the US Immigration and Customs Enforcement. According to their annual report, India sent 64,300 students to America in 2022 while China's number shrunk to 24,796.

"I first came to India as a young student, and I've seen in my own life how transformative these experiences can be," said US Ambassador to India Eric Garcetti. "Student exchange is at the heart of US-India relations, and with good reason. US provides students a world-class education and access to a global network of knowledge, laying the foundation for a lifetime of understanding. That's why we are here today, to encourage these opportunities for as many Indian students as possible," said ambassador Garcetti during the seventh annual Student Visa Day celebrations held in June.

There has been a steady rise in the number of Indian students in the US. Statistics show that in 2022, there was a 19 per cent increase.

Of the Indian students who got admitted in universities across US, 37 per cent were girls. According to the 2021 Open Doors report, the US remains the top study destination with more than 9,00,000 students from over 200 places of origin.

For Indian students seeking higher education, the United States remains their top choice. There are many reasons why getting a degree from the United States is becoming more desirable, including the abundance of top-notch colleges and universities there.

This year's increased capacity for US visas, shorter wait times, and an overall rise in the number of Indians who want to study abroad, not just from major cities but also from tier 2 and tier 3 cities also led to more Indians looking to go abroad for studies.

Ukrainian Nazi veteran's presence in Canadian House kicks up storm

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

WIDESPREAD outrage had followed on the days after Canada's decision to give standing ovation to a World War II-era Nazi veteran in its Parliament on September 22. The incident brought back memories of the holocaust and the merciless elimination of the Jew population.

> I wish to make clear that no one, including fellow parliamentarians and the Ukraine delegation, was aware of my intention or of my remarks before I delivered them
>
> Anthony Rota, Speaker, House of Commons, Canada

On Sunday, Canadian speaker of the House of Commons Anthony Rota has apologised for recognising the veteran as a "Ukrainian hero" before the Parliament.

"In my remarks following the address of the President of Ukraine, I recognised an individual in the gallery. I have subsequently become aware of more information which causes me to regret my decision to do so," Rota said.

The Ukrainian veteran, 98-year-old Yaroslav Hunka, was in attendance in the House of Commons in Parliament along with Canadian Prime Minister, Justin Trudeau, and Ukrainian President Volodmyr Zelenskyy. Hunka served in World War II as a member of the 14th Waffen Grenadier Division of the SS.

Following Zelenskyy's address in the House of Commons, Hunka, who was seated in the gallery, was praied fighting for Ukrainian independence against the Russians. Hunka received two standing ovations from those gathered.

Rota took responsibility for what was characterised as an oversight.

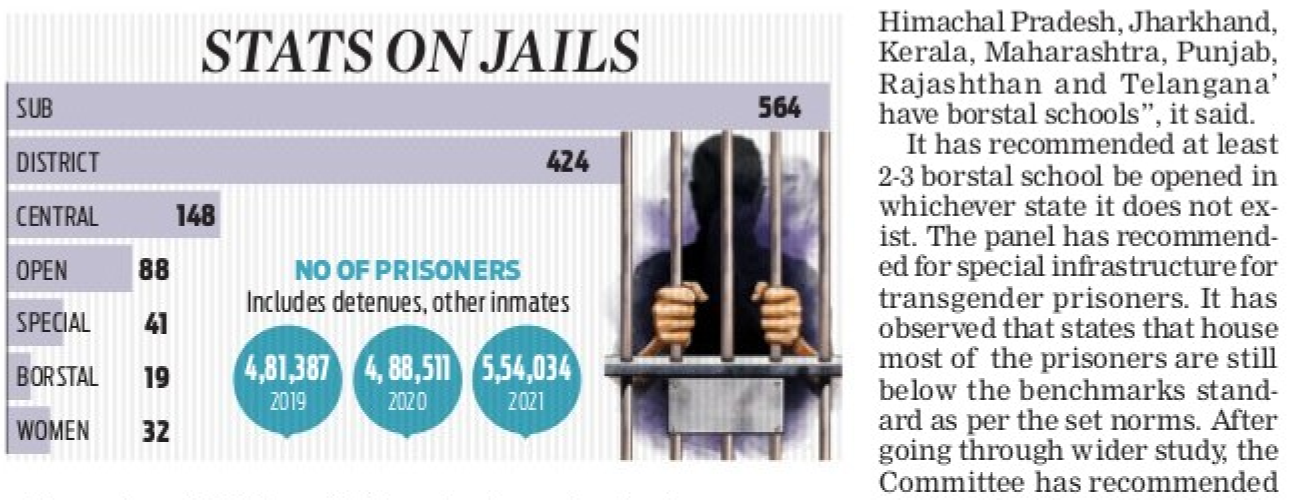
"I wish to make clear that no one, including fellow parliamentarians and the Ukraine delegation, was aware of my intention or of my remarks before I delivered them," Rota said.

Meanwhile, Russia's Ambassador to India, Denis Alipov, too criticised the episode. In his statement, Alipov said, "Canada has been and remains a safe haven for Ukranian Nazis. Apologices for ignorance are ridiculous while standing ovation tells it all. Thank God Zelenskky's grandfather does not see what is grandchild has become. Disgusting.''

Friends of Simon Wiesenthal Center said, "Disturbing to see Canada rise to applaud a member of a Nazi military branch responsible for the murder of Jews and others."

Panel bats for better facilities for women prisoners

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi



THE Parliamentary Standing Committee on Home Affairs in its report has observed that pregnant women prisoners and their children are lodged among other prisoners in overcrowded jails in the country.

The committee, headed by BJP MP in Rajya Sabha Brij Lal, who is also a former IPS officer, has recommended that the authorities concerned must ensure that pregnant women in jail should be able to give birth outside the prison and their new born babies must be cared with proper food, shelters, vaccination education, recreational space and physical growth.

It has recommended that babies should be allowed to stay with mothers in jails until the age of 12. "The committee is of view that in spite of laws for the protection of women, it is often observed that women are subjected to discrimination in various states of life and if a woman is on the wrong side of law her miseries increase manifold," the report said.

The committee has expressed serious concerns that many states and UTs governments have borstal schools in their jurisdiction. "Only Tamil Nadu, and 7 other states namely Himachal Pradesh, Jharkhand, Kerala, Maharashtra, Punjab, Rajashthan and Telangana' have borstal schools", it said.

It has recommended at least 2-3 borstal school be opened in whichever state it does not exist. The panel has recommended for special infrastructure for transgender prisoners. It has observed that states that house most of the prisoners are still below the benchmarks standard as per the set norms. After going through wider study, the Committee has recommended that the Government of India shall create an All-India Jail-cadre of UT.

The panel has stated that majority of the natural deaths in Indian prisoners occurs due to heart problem, lung-related ailments, cancer, TB, etc.

CBSE's CTET results out, close to 3L clear paper 1, over 1L pass in paper II

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

THE Central Board of Secondary Education (CBSE) on Monday declared the Central Teacher Eligibility Test (CTET) result, with close to 4 lakh candidates passing the exam held in participating schools.

A total of 15,01,474 candidates registered for Paper 1. A total of 12,13,704 appeared for the exam and 2,98,758 candidates qualified. In Paper 2, the CBSE said, 14,02,022 candidates registered.

While 11,66,178 appeared, as many as 1,01,057 candidates qualified for the exam, the statement issued by CBSE said. The CTET 2023 exam was held on August 20.

Candidates who appeared for the exam can now check their score at the official website - ctet.nic.in and CBSE website. The marksheet and qualifying certificate of the candidates will also be uploaded in DigiLocker shortly, the statement said.

There is no restriction on the number of times a candidate can take the exam.

The candidates may download it by using their mobile number provided by them in their online application form.

The result validity for the qualifying certificate for appointment of teachers is for lifetime for all categories.

A person who has qualified CTET will also be able to take the exam again to improve the score, the CBSE said.

Those candidates who have qualified for CTET 2023 paper 1 will be eligible for teaching jobs for classes I to V while those who cleared CTET 2023 paper 2 are eligible for teaching classes VI to VIII in schools.

General category candidates need to score a minimum of 60 per cent marks to clear the CTET exam while SC, ST, OBC and other reserved category candidates need to obtain 55 per cent marks.

UP TRADE SHOW

Over three lakh people, including buyers, visited the Uttar Pradesh International Trade Show (UP ITS) over the last five days with participants coming in from more than 60 countries, state's MSME minister Rakesh Sachan said.

Modi says Cong rusted iron, will fade away soon

ANURAAG SINGH & RAJESH ASNANI @ Bhopal/Jaipur

Three Union ministers in BJP 2nd list

The BJP on Monday released the second list of candidates for 39 assembly seats in MP. The party has decided to filed seven Lok Sabha MPs, including three Union ministers. Narendra Singh Tomar, Faggan Singh Kulasate and Prahlad Singh Patel are three ministers. BJP national general secretary Kailash Vijayavargiya will contest assembly polls. Tomar will contest from Dimani assembly seat and Kulaste from Niwas. Vijayavargiya will be fielded from Indore –I.

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Monday tore into INDIA alliance partners and lashed out at its spearhead the Congress comparing it with "rusted iron" that gradually corrodes in rain, charging the grand old party with outsourcing everything — from slogans to policies — to urban naxals.

The PM's swipe at Congress came a day after Rahul Gandhi predicted a certain win for the party in BJP-ruled Madhya Pradesh in the coming assembly polls. "Congress first got ruined, then became bankrupt and now has contracted itself to others. The party has turned into a company, which has outsourced everything, from slogans to policies, to the urban naxals. It's the urban naxals who are now running the Congress, while the party's real grassroots leaders are silently and helplessly watching it." His remarks came at a mega BJP Karyakarta Mahakumbh in Bhopal.

The PM referred to the women's reservation bill in Parliament to assert that the Opposition was "forced" to vote in support of the bill.

"The opposition's alliance includes those parties which didn't allow the crucial legislation to be passed for three decades. Even now they are raising ifs and buts. The Congress and its partners will now conspire to divide the women's power through all kinds of rumours," he said.

The PM asked the young, first-time voters to ponder over the Congress rule. "You have seen only BJP's good governance. After independence, Congress ruled MP for decades and misrule, lack of development and rampant corruption were the hallmark of that long rule which pushed MP among the BIMARU states," said the PM.

The PM also obliquely attacked Rahul Gandhi who has met porters, farmers and several common people in recent days. "For Congress leaders, the basti (slums) of the poor are picnic spots and the agricultural fields of poor farmers are ideal locations for photo and video shoots. BJP governments, on the other hand, work for making India a grand country across the globe," he said.

In Jaipur, the PM also launched a sharp attack on the Congress-ruled Rajasthan government. "The Gehlot government has wasted five important years of the youth. Whenever exam papers are leaked in Rajasthan, people get worried. If the BJP government is formed in Rajasthan, strict action will be taken against the mafias responsible for such misdeeds."

Caste census Hindustan's X-Ray, PM is afraid: Rahul

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

> If the OBCs, SCs, STs and women are to be given their fair share, then the caste census has to be conducted. And if Modi doesn't do it, the Congress will accomplish it if voted to power
>
> Rahul Gandhi, Congress MP

'OBC mins not asked'

According to Congress MP Rahul Gandhi, the OBC MPs and ministers in the BJP have revealed (in private) that they are not being consulted but kept like a statue in the House. All this happens while the actual decisions are taken by the bureaucrats and the Prime Minister.

Congress MP Rahul Gandhi on Monday charged the Modi-led BJP government with avoiding the caste census due to which the Other Backward Classes (OBCs), Scheduled Caste (SC), Scheduled Tribe (ST) and others were being deprived of their due share and participation.

Rahul attended the 'Awas Nyay Sammelan' organised by the state government at Sakri village in Bilaspur district, where the Congress leader launched Chhattisgarh Gramin Awas Nyay Yojana. Under the scheme, 47,090 homeless families from the state's socio-economic survey-2023 and 6,99,439 families in the permanent waiting list of the PMAY-Gramin will be the beneficiaries.

Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel said he had earlier urged the PM to allocate housing funds under the PMAY for those in the waiting list but didn't get any response.

Rahul, on his second visit to poll-bound Chhattisgarh this month, said, "The caste census is an X-ray of Hindustan that shows the real strength of OBCs, SCs, dalits, STs, women and the general category in the country. Once such data are known to the people, the nation can move ahead taking them along giving their share and contribution. Why is PM Modi afraid of it? I told him to let the truth of his government be known to the citizens of Hindustan without any fear", he said addressing a public rally at Sakri about 120 km from state capital Raipur.

He along with the CM also dedicated 413 development projects of Rs. 597.61 crore at the venue.

Rahul said the OBC MPs and ministers in the BJP have revealed (in private) that they are not being consulted but kept like a statue in the House while the actual decisions were taken by the bureaucrats and Narendra Modi.

"If the OBCs, SCs, STs and women are to be given their fair share, then the caste census has to be conducted. And if Modi doesn't do it, the Congress will accomplish it, if voted to power. The Congress will ensure OBCs get their due share", he asserted.

He said that whichever state the Congress party is in power, the party runs the government of the people, fulfils the promises immediately after winning the polls and doesn't rely on false promises. "The Congress government is for farmers, the poor, adivasis, OBCs, dalits and weaker sections. Whatever Congress says fulfils them," said the Congress leader.

Late Batti's daughter quits his party, joins BJP

At a time when the BJP is on the offensive against the Congress and the INDIA bloc over anti-Sanatan Dharma remarks by DMK and Congress leaders, the daughter of a tribal politician who had reportedly burnt copy of Ramayana and built a temple of Ravana, has joined the ruling party in poll-bound MP. Greenhorn tribal politician Monika Shah Batti, quit as head of her father Late Manmohan Shah Batti's Akhil Bhartiya Gondwana Party recently and joined the BJP. She may be in the race for BJP ticket from Amarwara-ST seat of Chhindwara district, a seat which was won by her father in 2003.

BJP leader may face challenge from nephew

Considered the most powerful OBC leader in the tribal dominated Mahakoshal region, 7-times sitting MLA and 2-times ex-MP Gaurishankar Bisen could be challenged by his own nephew Vishal Bisen in the coming assembly polls. The septuagenarian politician who was re-inducted into the state's council of ministers recently as a cabinet minister is said to be eyeing the BJP ticket for his younger daughter Mausam Bisen from Balaghat constituency. But his nephew Vishal Bisen, who quit the Congress, wants to contest from the Balaghat as an independent, too.

BJP leaders split over workers moving to Cong

Two senior state BJP leaders seem to have different takes on the continued defection of party leaders to the rival Congress ahead of the assembly polls. The state BJP president VD Sharma (whose working style has often been blamed by disgruntled BJP leaders for joining Congress) recently said that barring some swarthi (selfish) leaders, no one had joined the BJP. On the other hand, ex-minister Rampal Singh (considered close to CM Shivraj Singh Chouhan) caused a flutter in political circles of the state by saying that some BJP leaders, who switched over to the Congress, could actually have gone there to spy on what's happening there.

Dalit woman stripped, beaten & forced to drink urine in Bihar

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

IN a shocking incident, a Dalit woman was "stripped, assaulted and urinated" on her mouth by a money lender and his son in Bihar's capital Patna, police said on Monday.

The victim was subjected to inhumane treatment allegedly for her failure to repay recurring interest on a loan of ₹1,500 which her husband had taken from a local money lender Pramod Singh. The traumatised woman is undergoing treatment at a primary healthcare centre. The family members are frightened as they may have to face wrath of the accused for filing a case against them.

In a complaint, the victim alleged that Pramod Singh and his son Anshu Singh summoned her on Saturday and demanded more money despite having repaid the loan. She was stripped and brutally assaulted by the father-son duo. The woman visited the police station on Saturday night. However, police remained reluctant to register a case on the plea that the allegations were being verified.

Treat journalists critical of BJP with dhaba food, says Maha BJP chief

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

MAHARASHTRA BJP chief Chandrashekhar Bawankule stirred a controversy when he reportedly told a party workers' meeting to identify journalists who report against the incumbent government and BJP and offer them a treat at roadside dhabas to ensure that there is no "negative reporting" ahead of the 2024 Lok Sabha and state assembly elections.

The purported audio clip of Bawankule went viral on Monday where he is heard telling party workers in Ahmednagar that the BJP being a strong party has a solid WhatsApp network. "We have a strong social media network. This will help us get a mega victory," Bawankule said.

"Booth-level party workers should identify the journalists who give negative coverage and create nuisance against us. They report in such a way as if there was a blast…There are local print journalists, TV channels and some web journalists at polling booths. We should make a list of these four-five journalists," Bawankule is heard saying.

"We should offer them (reporters) tea once a month and give them treats in the evening… I believe you are smart enough to understand it. Take these journalists to a roadside dhaba/hotel. If you need something, then our local BJP MP Sujay Vikhe Patil is here to help you with expenses. There should not be negative coverage against us," Bawankule says.

After the audio went viral, Bawankule clarified that his statement was twisted deliberately. He said PM Narendra Modi has been in the government for nine years and doing a lot of good work. "So, I was telling my party workers to behave well with journalists."

Cong slams

Maharashtra Congress chief Nana Patole said by inviting journalists to a dhaba, the BJP wanted to buy journalists. He demanded an apology from the BJP for insulting the journalists.

'Joke': Narmada flood victims call out govt relief package

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

AMID a debate over the recent Narmada floods in Gujarat, a new controversy has cropped up over the government's relief assistance. The state government has allocated ₹2,500 each per family for clothing and as much for household goods, besides ₹2,000 extra.

The flood-affected families have called the government announcement of ₹7,000 per family a joke. Moreover, the government has announced only ₹1,20,000 in aid for the construction of houses that have been completely destroyed by the floods, while the government has announced ₹10,000 for entirely destroyed or partially damaged shacks.

According to a notification released on September 22, the state government has announced a relief package for Bharuch, Narmada, Vadodara, Panchmahal, and Dahod.

According to the notification, the state government has decided to pay ₹2,500 as clothing assistance and ₹2,500 as household assistance, for a total of ₹5,000 per family as per State Disaster Response Fund (SDRF) norms in these five districts, and another ₹2,000 from the state government budget to pay a total assistance of ₹7,000 per family.

Suresh Patel of Juna Borbhata village in south Gujarat's Bharuch district, where the Narmada water has caused the most damage, asks, "In today's inflationary times, tell me what kind of household goods can be purchased for ₹2,500 for the entire family, what kind of clothing can be purchased for 2,500 if there are 10 people in a family?"

"How many people will be able to dress? How many pairs of chappals would you need to buy for 10 individuals if each pair costs ₹100, and would you be able to buy clothing for the remaining family members?" he asked.

According to the notification, from SDRF, the government would pay ₹20,000 for residential kutcha/pucca dwellings that have been completely demolished or have sustained serious damage.

'Love jihad' is a matter of concern, says Bhagwat

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

RASHTRIYA Swayamsevak Sangh chief Mohan Bhagwat has asked the functionaries of his organisation to work towards curbing the cases of 'Love Jihad' (the term given by right-wing groups for interfaith relationships or marriages and religious conversions) which according to him are on a rise in Uttar Pradesh.

Bhagwat, who was on a four-day state visit that ended on Monday, held a meeting with RSS office-bearers of Awadh Prant (region bordering Nepal) on the last day and asked them to reach out to the people to prevent such cases.

According to sources in the RSS, Bhagwat was of the opinion that religious conversions were "more profound in rural areas" of the state. "We need to focus especially in areas where anti-nationalist and anti-social elements are active," Bhagwat reportedly told the RSS workers at a meeting in Lucknow.

Bhagwat also discussed 'Land Jihad' (a phrase given by the right-wing for illegally grabbing land for constructing religious institutes or structures) during the meeting with the RSS workers.

"Land Jihad is taking place in the rural areas of the state, bordering Nepal. People are grabbing lands belonging to the Hindu community to build mosques, Mazars and dargahs," a RSS functionary alleged. The RSS is already running public awareness programmes against such activities. It has been decided to intensify the awareness activities, he added.

As Lok Sabha elections are approaching, the RSS chief also took stock of poll preparedness. According to sources, Bhagwat stressed expanding the organisational activities, increasing the number of shakhas and reaching people belonging to various sections of society. Recently, Bhagwat had adviced RSS functionaries to rope in more Dalits to organisation's posts and activities.

During the meeting, sources said concerns were also raised over the recent remarks on Sanatan Dharam made by DMK leader and Tamil Nadu chief minister's son Udhayanidhi Stalin.

Earlier, Bhagwat, during his visit, had met state chief minister Yogi Adityanath and discussed the inauguration of Ram Mandir in Ayodhya slated for January 2024 and 14 Lok Sabha seats which the BJP lost in the 2019 general assembly polls.

According to sources, the RSS is planning a grand opening of the temple by holding religious ceremonies in temples across the country.

Bhagwat has also adviced Adiyanath to chart out a plan to wrest the 14 parliamentary constituencies. The state sends 80 members to Lok Sabha.

Plans for Ram Mandir

RSS is planning to hold religious ceremonies in temples across the country for the grand opening of Ram Mandir. The VHP and Bajrang Dal have planned to conduct numerous yatras. Bhagwat has also adviced CM Yogi Adityanath to chart out a plan to wrest 14 parliamentary constituencies. Earlier, Bhagwat had met the CM and discussed the inauguration of Ram Mandir in Ayodhya that is slated for January 2024.

2 UP women cops seek permission for gender change, govt in a fix

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

IN-a-first-of-its-kind request received by state Police, two women constables–one posted in Gorakhpur and the other in Gonda–have sought permission to undergo sex-change surgery. The main question before the police is whether to permit the women constables to the sex-change as they were recruited as women cops.

According to police sources, though the request by the two women is the same but reasons mentioned are different.

If the two women are permitted to undergo sex change, how would the physical criteria required for male constables be matched if they are considered as "male constables" after the surgery, sources said.

The physical criteria like height, running stamina and shoulder width for males and females are different. According to health experts, though the surgery may change gender, it won't change physical requirements needed for the male cop.

According to a senior police officer, recruitment criteria meant for men and women are strictly followed in state Police. The women constables after getting their gender changed to male would defy the norms, the officer said.

The police department, sources said, has made similar submissions in the Allahabad High Court when one of the two women constables approached the court after failing to get permission earlier for gender change. She has been pursuing her case since January. However, the High Court asked the state Police to reconsider the appeal of the woman constable on a merit basis and prepare norms for similar cases that may come up again in the future, a police officer said.

The police authorities had already written a letter to King George's Medical University of Lucknow to get a medical examination of both the constables through a medical board and give their opinion.

Moreover, police are also holding consultations with various stakeholders related to women and gender issues, apart from medical and legal experts, before concluding.

The High Court had posted the matter for the next hearing in the first week of December.

HC asks cops to reconsider her plea

One of the two women had approached the Allahabad High Court about her plea for a sex-change surgery. Though the police told the court that permission couldn't be given as they were recruited as women constables and would be unable to match the criteria set for male constables even after the operation, the court asked the police to reconsider her appeal and decide over it. The physical criteria like height, running stamina and shoulder width for males and females are different.

Amid food insecurity, Pak military to take over 1 mn acres for cultivation

ISLAMABAD

AMID a growing food security crisis in Pakistan, the country's powerful military is taking over more than a million acres of government-owned land to grow food.

The army will acquire up to 1 million acres of land in Pakistan's Punjab province. The aim is to boost production through army-run farms on leased state land.

The military will grow cash crops such as wheat, cotton and sugar cane, as well as vegetables and fruit, with 20% of any profit earmarked for farming research and development, Nikki Asia reported.

It comes months after Pakistan's civilian and military leadership announced a joint plan to tackle food insecurity, malnutrition, and soaring import costs.

Backers of the plan say it will generate better crop yields and save water. However, it has also led to concerns about the military's pervasive presence in the country.

Critics say the land transfer could make the military the country's single-biggest landowner at a time when 25 million of Pakistan's population is landless poor.

"Usually, army officers have very limited knowledge of farming," said agricultural consultant Asif Riaz Taj was quoted as saying by Nikkei Asia. "There are hundreds of agricultural graduates who are jobless and they have the skills to do this job," he said.

Ukraine's Odesa port hit in major aerial attack

Independent UN-backed rights experts find new evidence of war crimes by Russian forces, including use of torture

KYIV

RUSSIA launched a major aerial attack on southern Ukraine overnight, the Ukrainian military said on Monday, hitting Odesa port and destroying grain stores.

Russia "attacked the south of the country again", the Defence Forces of the South of Ukraine announced on the messaging platform Telegram.

Since July when Moscow pulled out of a UN-brokered deal allowing safe grain shipments via the Black Sea, Russia has ramped up attacks on Ukraine's grain-exporting infrastructure in the southern Odesa and Mykolaiv regions.

Nataliya Gumenyuk, spokeswoman for the Ukrainian southern military command, said Russia was apparently "trying to test out the density of the air defence".

"They understand that port infrastructure is a priority for our region, and that it is reliably protected. However, that is why the attack that occurred tonight was both massive and by combined means," she said on Telegram.

The Defence Forces of the South of Ukraine said Russia directed 19 drones and 2 Onyx supersonic missiles at Odesa, and fired 12 Kalibr cruise missiles.The Ukrainian air force said the Kalibrs were launched from a ship and a submarine.

They claimed all 19 Shaheds and 11 Kalibrs were shot down. However, Russia "hit the port infrastructure" in Odesa, which "suffered significant damage", the southern defence forces said. "Onyx missiles destroyed granaries. But people were not hurt," they said.

Warehouses and a private house in the Odesa suburbs were damaged and caught fire, they added, "as a result of falling debris". Gumenyuk said one of the grain stores hit was empty. "Nevertheless, hitting grain deal-related infrastructure", she said, was a Russian "priority". Odesa regional governor Oleg Kiper said on Telegram that one woman in Odesa, a civilian, was injured by shrapnel "in a blast wave" and was being treated in hospital.

Meanwhile, an independent UN-backed human rights experts said Monday they have turned up continued evidence of war crimes committed by Russian forces in their war against Ukraine, including torture some of it with such brutality that it led to death and rape of women aged up to 83 years old.

"The commission is concerned by the continued evidence of war crimes committed by the Russian armed forces in Ukraine during its first mandate," commission chair Erik Mose told the council, which created his investigative team in March last year, just days after Russian forces invaded Ukraine.

Kosovo says six linked to deadly monastery clashes fled to Serbia

CAIRO

KOSOVO'S interior minister on Monday said at least six suspected assailants accused of participating in deadly clashes in northern Kosovo on Sunday were now in Serbia and receiving treatment at a hospital.

The accusation came a day after the killing of a police officer during an ambush and an ensuing firefight at a monastery near the border with Serbia marked one of the gravest escalations in Kosovo for years. "Six wounded terrorists are being treated in the hospital of Novi Pazar and we ask Serbia to immediately hand them over to the Kosovo authorities, so they can face justice," interior minister Xhelal Svecla told reporters, referring to a city in southern Serbia.

Earlier Monday, Kosovo's Prime Minister Albin Kurti said a police operation was ongoing. The site of the firefight was sealed as investigators sifted through evidence following a late-night gun battle that saw the standoff end when authorities stormed the monastery in the village of Banjska.

"Many things will be resolved during the investigations," Kurti told Manuel Sarrazin, the German envoy for the Western Balkans, during a meeting on Monday.

The chaotic confrontation began when a police patrol was ambushed near Banjska early on Sunday, leaving one Kosovo law enforcement officer dead and another wounded.

The gunmen fled to a nearby monastery, where they barricaded themselves in and traded gunfire with Kosovo police for hours. AFP

Ethnic cleansing fears prompt mass Karabakh exodus

YEREVAN

THOUSANDS of refugees from Nagorno-Karabakh streamed into Armenia on Monday, as the leaders of Azerbaijan and ally Turkey hailed Baku's seizure of the rebel enclave of Karabakh at a summit.

While Azerbaijan showcased its regional alliances, Russia hit back at embattled Armenian Prime Minister Nikol Pashinyan after he blamed Moscow for the swift defeat of the breakaway territory.

Aremenian authorities have warned that those who stayed behind risk facing ethnic cleansing. Several days after the fighting, the first refugees arrived in Armenia on Sunday and 6,650 people have so far entered, Yerevan said on Monday.

AFP reporters saw the refugees crowding into a humanitarian hub set up in a local theatre in the city of Goris to register for transport and housing. "We lived through terrible days," said Anabel Ghulasyan, 41, from the village of Rev, known as Shalva in Azeri.

Armenia and Azerbaijan have fought two wars in the last three decades over Nagorno-Karabakh, a majority ethnic Armenian enclave within the internationally recognised border of Azerbaijan.

Azerbaijan launched a lightning operation on September 19 to seize control of the territory, forcing the separatists to lay down their arms under the terms of a ceasefire agreed the following day.

It followed a nine-month blockade of the region by Baku that caused shortages of key supplies. The separatists have said 200 people were killed in last week's fighting.

Baku announced two of its soldiers also died when a mine hit their vehicle on Sunday.

Azerbaijan's state media said officials held a second round of peace talks with Nagorno-Karabakh's ethnic Armenian community aimed at "reintegrating" them. But on the road heading to Armenia, more and more residents from the region appeared to be trying to get out as the witnesses said cars were snarling up in traffic.

Turkish President Recep Erdogan lauded Baku's "historic success" at a meeting with Azerbaijan's leader. Agencies

Hollywood writers, studios reach tentative deal to end strike

WRITERS GUILD OF AMERICA
ON STRIKE!
Paramount Pictures
MELROSE GATE

DEAL ON THE HORIZON

The apparent breakthrough will raise hopes that striking actors can also reach terms with studios to end a months-long impasse that has seen film and TV production largely halted, costing the California economy billions of dollars

The Writers Guild of America announced the deal in a joint statement with the Alliance of Motion Picture and Television Producers

MARATHON TALKS

The three-year contract agreement—settled on after five marathon days of renewed talks by WGA and AMPTP negotiators that was joined at times by studio executives—must be approved by the guild's board and members

THE STRIKE CONTINUES

In a longer message from the guild shared by members on social media, the writers were told the strike is not over and no one was to return to work until hearing otherwise, but picketing is to be suspended immediately

> We can say, with great pride, that this deal is exceptional — with meaningful gains and protections for writers in every sector of the membership
>
> A letter the Writers Guild of America sent to members

PUSH FOR BETTER PAY

Thousands of film and television scribes downed their pens in early May over demands including better pay for writers, greater rewards for creating hit shows, and protection from artificial intelligence

They were joined by striking actors, leaving Hollywood lots all but vacant

NEGOTIATIONS RESUME

The proposed solution to the writers strike came after talks resumed on Wednesday for the first time in a month. Chief executives including Bob Iger of Disney, Ted Sarandos of Netflix, David Zaslav of Warner Bros. Discovery and Donna Langley of NBCUniversal reportedly took part in the negotiations directly

Pak HC orders Imran's transfer to Adiala jail

Islamabad: A top Pakistani court on Monday ordered authorities to shift former prime minister Imran Khan from the Attock jail in Punjab province to high-security Adiala prison in the garrison city of Rawalpindi. In August, Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf petitioned the Islamabad High Court to transfer the deposed party chief to Adiala prison where A-class facilities are available, keeping in view Khan's affluent family background, social and political status.

SL cop gets jail term for not arresting politician

Colombo: A court in Sri Lanka's town of Ratnapura sentenced a former senior police officer to five years in jail for protecting a politician from arrest over a murder charge. Lalith Jayasinghe, former Senior Deputy Inspector General of Sabaragamuwa Province, was found guilty of influencing an officer in-charge of a local police station not to arrest Premalal Jayasekera, current minister of state.

Suella Braverman orders review into UK police firearms regulations

LONDON

BRITISH Home Secretary Suella Braverman launched a review into the legal protections for officers on firearms duties after a revolt within Scotland Yard ranks following a murder charge against a Metropolitan Police officer who had discharged his gun while on duty.

The UK's Ministry of Defence (MoD) is said to have offered soldiers as back up support for armed police in London after several officers turned in their weapon carrying permits since their colleague was charged last week.

The UK's Crown Prosecution Service (CPS) had authorised charges against the officer, granted legal anonymity, in connection with a shooting in September last year.

Home Secretary Suella Braverman | AP

"We depend on our brave firearms officers to protect us from the most dangerous and violent in society. In the interest of public safety, they have to make split-second decisions under extraordinary pressures," Braverman said in a post on X on Sunday.

"They mustn't fear ending up in the dock for carrying out their duties. Officers risking their lives to keep us safe have my full backing and I will do everything in my power to support them. That's why I have launched a review to ensure they have the confidence to do their jobs while protecting us all," she said.

The Met Police chief, Sir Mark Rowley, welcomed Braverman's review into the issue in an open letter on Monday and stressed that it was important to 'let the police police'. "It is essential that we have a system which commands the confidence of officers and the communities they serve," writes Rowley. More than 100 officers are believed to have handed in permits allowing them to carry weapons after their colleague was charged over the shooting of Chris Kaba, 24, in south London. PTI

Burman Family to takeover Religare

Makes an open offer to acquire 26% additional stake in Religare for ₹2,116 crore

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

TAKING A FIRM GRIP

FOUR BURMAN FAMILY COMPANIES HAVE MADE AN OPEN OFFER TO ACQUIRE A 26% ADDITIONAL STAKE IN RELIGARE FOR ₹2,116 CRORE

BURMANS WILL HAVE A CONTROLLING STAKE IN THE COMPANY AFTER ACQUISITION

DABUR TO ACQUIRE SHARES AT ₹235 EACH, A STEEP DISCOUNT FROM ITS CURRENT MARKET PRICE

Burman companies — MB Finmart Private Limited, Puran Associates Private Limited, VIC Enterprises Private Limited, and Milky Investment & Trading Company — currently hold over 25% stake in Religare

As per current SEBI norms, an entity buying a 25% stake in a listed firm will have to mandatorily make an open offer for additional 26% of the shares

The Burmans are looking to diversify beyond the fast-moving consumer goods (FMCG) space and there is no better way to do it than by acquiring a well-known player in the fast-growing financial and insurance space — says an analyst

RELIGARE SHARES FELL MORE THAN 7% TO CLOSE AT ₹253 ON MONDAY

EYEING to increase its presence in the financial space, the Burman family of FMCG major Dabur is all set to acquire a majority stake in the diversified financial services group Religare Enterprises.

If successful, the Burmans will have a controlling stake in the company. Four Burman family firms have made an open offer to acquire a 26% additional stake in Religare for ₹2,116 crore.

In an exchange filing made on Monday morning, Dabur has put forward its intention to acquire up to 90,042,541 shares at ₹235 each, a steep discount from its current market price. Religare shares fell more than 7% to close at ₹253 on Monday.

"The proposed transaction is in line with our vision to create a leading financial services platform that encompasses lending, broking and health insurance services," Anand Burman, Chairman emeritus at Dabur India. "We are convinced that REL is the right platform and positioned for sustained success. With our guidance, REL will continue its journey to being one of India's distinguished financial services platforms."

A senior analyst tracking the banking/NBFC space said this acquisition is beneficial for Dabur as well as Religare. "The Burmans are looking to diversify beyond the FMCG space and there is no better way to do it than by acquiring a well-known player in the fast-growing financial and insurance space," said the analyst requesting anonymity.

Religare is a Delhi-based diversified financial services company, which offers services in over 400 cities. Its services include loans to SMEs, affordable housing finance, health insurance and retail broking. It was formerly promoted by Shivinder and Malvinder Singh, who were accused of fund diversion from Religare Finvest, the group's NBFC business.

"The Board notes the acquirers are existing significant shareholders of the company and have had an impeccable reputation and exemplary standing in the industry over these years. We view this intention of acquisition of control in the Company as a positive step reflective of the strong business platform on which the Company stands," Religare said in a statement. The Burmans will have the right to appoint directors to Religare's board and make changes in the management structure as determined by its board.

Burman companies -- MB Finmart Private Limited, Puran Associates Private Limited, VIC Enterprises Private Limited, and Milky Investment & Trading Company -- currently hold over 25% stake in Religare.

According to the current Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) norms, an entity buying a 25% stake in a listed firm will have to mandatorily make an open offer for additional 26% of the shares.

Flipkart invests in 5 early-stage tech start-ups

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

FLIPKART'S venture investing arm, Flipkart Ventures, will invest in five early-stage start-ups as part of its accelerator programme, Flipkart Leap Ahead (FLA).

Five start-ups -- Algomage, Castler, FlexifyMe, NimbleBox.ai and ReCircle -- have been selected for their potential to revolutionise technology across sectors including deep tech, fintech, health tech, gen-AI and sustainability, and they will receive equity-based funding. These start-ups will receive mentorship for growth and innovation, with equity-based investments ranging from $250,000 to $500,000. They will be provided support in achieving product-market fit, laying grounds for a scalable architecture, and building teams, Flipkart Ventures said. Flipkart Ventures with a $100 million fund to back start-ups, it has portfolio of over 15 firms such as BeatO, Finbox, Goat brand labs, Hyperface, Livwell, Neuropixel, Rightbot and others. Lubna Ahmed, head of Flipkart Ventures, said, "Many start-ups from last year's cohort have been able to secure successful investor funding, cultivate new business relationships and implement pilot projects to support the ecosystem."

G-sec yields may fall below 7% on index inclusion

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE Government of India bond yield may fall below 7% after their inclusion to JP Morgan's Emerging-market Index, feel experts. The 10-year government bond yield on Monday remained unchanged at 7.15%.

The 10-year government bond yield fell 7 basis points (bps) to 7.0717% in early trades on Friday, the lowest 10-year yield since July 27, before closing at 7.15%. As per an SBI report, yields could touch 7% even before March of the current fiscal and should breach 7% in FY25. "Demand for G-sec could outstrip supply of G-sec...This could be a new turning point in the G-sec market in India where supply has traditionally outstripped demand for G-sec," SBI stated in the report. Government bonds are called G-Sec.

Citi Bank analysts expect the yield to ease to 6.80% over coming months. India's weight could reach the threshold of 10% in GBI-EM Global Diversified and nearly 8.7% in the GBI-EM Global index, SBI said. This may result in passive flows of about $24 billion based on current AUM/holdings by March 25. JP Morgan announced on September 21 it will incorporate Indian government bonds (IGBs) into its benchmark, the Emerging-market Index Global Diversified (GBI-EMGD).

Inclusion of the bonds will commence on June 28, 2024, with India being allocated a weight of 10% on the index. The inclusion could lead to more global index providers adding India bonds to their indices. As per SBI, FTSE Russell, another index provider, is considering inclusion of the bonds in its emerging market gauge. Puneet Pal, head-fixed income, PGIM India Mutual Fund, said the broad range of the benchmark 10-year bond yield will be between 7.00% and 7.25% over the next couple of months. Given the inclusion of the bonds in JP Morgan EM Index and the recent rise in yields, which has pushed back the expectations of rate cuts, yields are entering attractive territory and investors can look to raise allocation to fixed income as growth is expected to slow down towards the end of the year.

Refex to deploy 10K EVs for staff transportation

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Chennai

REFEX GREEN MOBILITY, subsidiary of Refex Industries, a listed entity, announced it will acquire about 10,000 electric cars in three years for employee transportation service across metro cities in the country.

Currently it operates nearly 500 electric vehicles at present and targets to strengthen its EV fleet size to 2,000 in a year and further ramp up to 10,000 cars in three years.

Refex started operations in March this year in Bengaluru and expanded to Chennai on Monday. It eyes expansion in Pune, Hyderabad and Delhi. It largely serves corporate clients and bets on the environmental social and governance (ESG) regulations to capture the employee transport business with an electric fleet. Anil Jain, managing director of Refex Group, said scope-3 compliance in ESG makes it necessary for companies and the shift to EVs is driving the demand. As existing contracts end, a lot of new contracts are made for EVs, he added. The company said EV fleet operations typically cost 10% TO 15% higher than petrol cars, but still few companies are preferring green options.

Bajaj Finance's $1 billion fundraising plan triggers stock rerating, share up 5%

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

BROKERAGE firms have turned bullish on Bajaj Finance as the non-banking financial company (NBFC) is expected to raise up to $1 billion to support its future growth plans.

Shares of the firm rose nearly 5% on Monday to close at ₹7,819 a piece after it announced that its board will be meeting on October 5 to consider raising funds.

Following the announcement, global brokerage CLSA raised its target price on Bajaj Finance, predicting a 27% upside over Friday's close of ₹7,474.85. CLSA continues to have a 'Buy' call on the stock but now the target has been revised to ₹9,500. It noted that the capital raise would help Bajaj Finance to help fuel long-term growth. It also sees a 10-13% book value per share (BVPS) accretion from the fundraising plan, which will still keep Bajaj Finance's return on equity (RoE) over 20%.

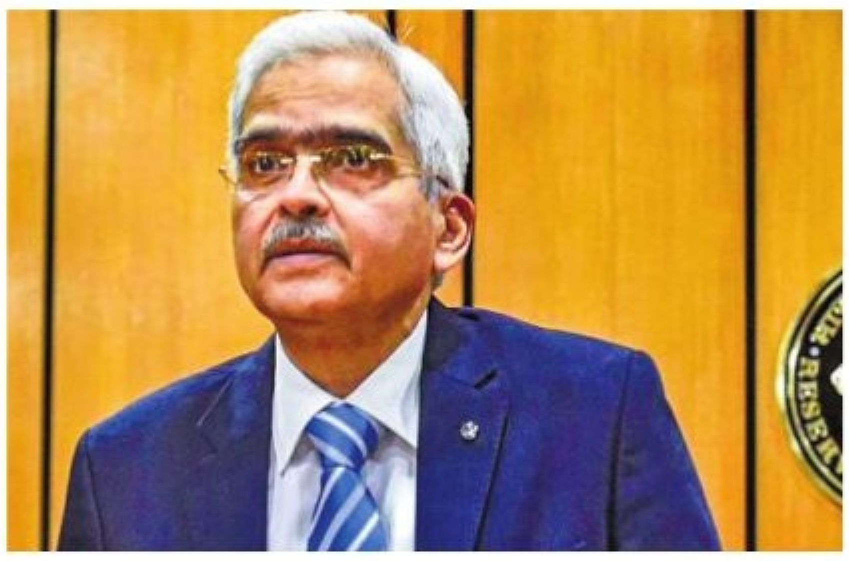
Brokerage firm Motilal Oswal Financial Services also feels the stock can rise further after the company's fundraising announcement. Bajaj Finance, the Pune-based financial giant, is aiming to raise about $1 billion via a qualified institutions placement (QIP) or preferential issue, as per reports.

This move comes as it is about to face stiff competition from the entry of Jio Financial Services in the NBFC space.

"While we still don't have finer details on the game plan of Jio Financial, it has plans to initially foray into consumer and merchant lending. Some of the channel checks suggest Jio Financial has already started consumer lending pilots in consumer durable/lifestyle stores owned by Reliance. This capital raise could then be a tacit acknowledgement that Bajaj Finance is readying its capital ammunition for how the competitive landscape is going to evolve over the next few years," said Motilal Oswal in a report.

RBI Guv red-flags dominance of a few board members in large banks

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi



RESERVE BANK OF INDIA (RBI) Governor Shaktikanta Das on Monday raised the issue of "excessive dominance" by a few board members, including chairpersons or vice-chairpersons, in some large commercial banks.

He emphasised on the need for fair and democratic board discussions, where every director has an opportunity to express their views.

"There should not be an over-dominance or excessive dominance by one or two members of the board, or the chairman or the vice-chairman. We have seen this even in big commercial banks...wherever we have seen this, we have told the bank that this is not the way," Das said while addressing directors of Urban Cooperative Banks (UCBs) at a meeting organised by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI).

Governor Das didn't provide further details but stressed the importance of well-functioning boards. Interestingly, this statement comes in the context of past banking system problems, such as the YES Bank bailout and the recent resignation of Uday Kotak from his executive role at Kotak Mahindra Bank.

Rana Kapoor, co-founder, chief executive officer, and managing director of YES Bank, was arrested due to his alleged involvement in the irregularities at the bank. Meanwhile, Uday Kotak, the chief executive officer and managing director of Kotak Mahindra Bank, recently stepped down from his position and will continue serving as a non-executive board member. Governor Das also encouraged directors in urban cooperative banks (UCBs) to have expertise in areas such as risk management and technology, and to engage actively in board discussions by asking relevant questions and seeking clarifications.

In addition, Das also said that safeguarding the hard-earned money of depositors is a sacred obligation for bankers, surpassing the significance of visiting religious place.

"Protection of depositors' money is the most important responsibility of a bank. It is a sacred duty. It is a sacred duty like going to a temple or masjid or gurdwara to bow down, it's a sacred task. In fact, I would say this is much more," the governor stated.Furthermore, Das underscored the significance of a stable banking system for the smooth functioning of the economy, emphasising that UCBs are a crucial component of the sector.

Power Grid to raise ₹2,250 cr through bonds

NEW DELHI: Power Grid Corporation on Monday said its board has approved a proposal to raise up to ₹2,250 crore via bonds to fund its capital expenditure. The company, in an exchange filing, said Committee of Directors for Bonds, in their meeting held on September 25 have approved raising funds in second tranche. "The fundraising will part-finance its capex requirement for providing inter corporate loan(s) to subsidiaries/JVs and for corporate purposes by securitisation of cash flows of four operational SPV (special purpose vehicles) up to March, 2034," it said in an exchange filing. ENS

₹ falls 19 paise against $ on rising crude prices

NEW DELHI: The rupee declined by 19 paise to settle at 83.13 against the US dollar on Monday due to rising crude oil prices and a strong American currency against major rivals overseas. Subdued equity markets and withdrawal of foreign funds also weighed on the domestic currency, forex traders said. At the interbank foreign exchange market, the local unit opened weak at 83.04 and traded between a high of 83.04 and a low of 83.15 against the greenback.It finally settled at 83.13 against the dollar, registering a fall of 19 paise from the previous close. On Friday, the rupee climbed 19 paise to close at 82.94 compared to the the US dollar. PTI

Amazon to invest up to $4 billion in Anthropic

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

AMAZON will invest up to $4 billion in San Francisco-based AI start-up Anthropic and have a minority ownership position in the company.

Amazon and Anthropic on Monday announced a strategic collaboration that will bring together their respective technology and expertise in generative artificial intelligence (AI) to accelerate development of Anthropic's future models and make them accessible to AWS customers. "We have respect for Anthropic's team and foundation models, and believe we can help improve customer experiences via our collaboration," said Andy Jassy, Amazon CEO.

This is the latest AWS generative AI announcement as it continues to expand its offering at all three layers of the generative AI stack. At the bottom layer, AWS continues to offer compute instances from NVIDIA as well as AWS's custom silicon chips, AWS Trainium for AI training and AWS Inferentia for AI inference. At the middle layer, AWS is focused on providing customers with the broadest selection of foundation models from leading providers, and at the top layer, AWS offers generative AI applications and services for customers like Amazon CodeWhisperer, a powerful AI-powered coding companion, which recommends code snippets in the code editor, accelerating developer productivity as they code, Amazon said.

Will generate 5 lakh jobs this festive season: E-commerce firm Meesho

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

ECOMMERCE firm Meesho on Monday said it would enable nearly five lakh seasonal job opportunities to fulfil the upcoming festive season demand.

This is about a 50% increase compared to the seasonal jobs the company created last year.

The SoftBank-backed firm said it will enable nearly two lakh job opportunities through its partnership with third-party logistics players like Ecom Express, DTDC, Elastic Run, Loadshare, Delhivery, Shadowfax and Xpressbees, among others. Of the total job openings, 60% will be from tier-3 and 4 regions. These roles will primarily contain first-mile and delivery associates responsible for tasks like delivery picking, sorting, loading, unloading and return inspections. Meesho sellers are projected to hire over three lakh seasonal workers as part of their requirements for the festive season. These seasonal workers will assist Meesho's sellers in various capacities, including manufacturing, packaging, and sorting, to fulfil the rising customer demand, it said.

Sourabh Pandey, CXO, Fulfilment and Experience, Meesho, said, "Since we are anticipating a substantial uptick in demand during this festive season, we have enabled our sellers and third-party logistics partners to generate over 5 lakh job opportunities within the ecosystem." Abhishek Bansal, cofounder and CEO, Shadowfax, said "The festive season is going to see phenomenal growth opportunities fuelled by tier 3+ regions."

Shadowfax has invested in large pickup centres in cities such as Lucknow, Surat, Ludhiana and Sagar. Meanwhile, as per a study conducted by Nielsen Media India, on behalf of Amazon India, consumers plan to spend across a wide range of categories during this festive period, from high-value items to daily essentials; 75% are interested buying electronic gadgets and products (smartphones, TVs, refrigerators, ACs), luxury and authentic beauty brands, home furnishing/improvement items and consumables.

500 GW renewable energy target by 2030: Minister

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

POWER minister R K Singh on Monday said India will achieve its 500 GW renewable energy target before the 2030 deadline.

Singh, while addressing India Energy Transition Summit 2023 organised by the Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce & Industry, also said that if the country had not lost two years because of COVID-19, the India would have achieved 50% of its power generation capacity from non-fossil fuels, by now.

"We will achieve 500 GW of renewable energy (RE) well before 2030," he said.

Currently, the country has 424 GW of power generation capacity, which includes nearly 180 GW from non-fossil fuels and another 88 GW is in the works.

The minister said India's energy transition programme is at the top in the world. The renewable energy capacity addition in the country is the fastest in the world.

New and renewable energy secretary Bhupinder Singh Bhalla said the country added 15 GW of renewable energy in the last financial year (2022-23), which would be increased to 25 GW in 2023-24 and further to 40 GW in 2024-25. The minister also added that 50 GW of renewable energy projects would go for bidding annually from this year onwards.

GOLD FINGERS

India's 10m air rifle team wins gold with world record mark, Tomar claims individual bronze

SWAROOOP SWAMINATHAN @Chennai

THE men's air rifle 10m is a legacy event in an Indian context. At Beijing in 2008, Abhinav Bindra became the country's first individual Olympic gold medallist. Four years later, Gagan Narang won bronze. In 2021 though, that halo was punctured. The output didn't match the hype and no Indian advanced to the final.

In Hangzhou — roughly 1300 kms north of Beijing — India once again showed the possibilities in this category. In the morning, the discipline gave the country their first gold of the Games. Approximately two hours later, Aishwary Pratap Singh Tomar prevailed in a battle of wits to earn himself a bronze. Divyansh Singh Panwar and Rudrankksh Patil, who finished fourth in the final, were the other members of the team. For Tomar, the second Indian to win multiple medals at this year's Asiad, this will go some way in getting that belief system back in place after a less than ideal 18 months or so. He may only be 22 but he's already a relative veteran. He came into Hangzhou on the back of some less than ideal experiences.

It included failing to win a quota place for the country in the men's 50m 3P, his bread and butter (he will be in action in this event later on at Hangzhou), at the Baku World Championships in August.

Sensing there was a need to talk to her ward after that disappointment, chief coach, Suma Shirur, invited Tomar to have a one-on-one conversation during dinner. "It was extremely disappointing for him," Shirur told this daily from Hangzhou on Monday. "It was probably one of the lows of his career that he had to get over. From that context, this (team gold with a world record and individual bronze) this was good. He redeemed himself, somewhere he wanted to prove himself. He's a great competitor.

"I called him for that dinner saying 'we need to have a talk'. One match doesn't make you a bad shooter. It's important that you regroup yourself for the Asian Games." Considering Shirur has seen Tomar develop from an early age, she knew what her ward needed then and it paid off at the Fuyang Yinhu Sports Centre.

It kind of helped that the Asian Games so closely followed the Worlds so Tomar knew he had the chance to 'redeem himself'.

In the qualifying stage on Monday, the 22-year-old, who has a whole raft of senior and junior medals in his locker, he had a slightly iffy first series of 104.1. That's when he put the pedal to the metal and reeled off five successive series with scores of over 105 or over to finish fifth.

While Sheng Lihao and Park Hajun had left the others to build a sizable advantage, Tomar had the unenviable task of beating compatriot Patil mere hours after breaking the world record and claiming gold in the team event. That battle went Tomar's way by mere millimetres.

After the first 16 shots in the final, Tomar was on the outside looking in, his 166.8 was sandwiched by Patil's 166.9 and Nyantai Bayaraa's 166.7. A 10.5 and a 10.7 followed from his rifle (Patil shot a 10.4 and a 10.1) and Bayaraa was eliminated. Just like on Sunday, two Indians were left scrapping for one podium place unless the Lihao and Park faded pretty badly. They didn't. Unlike Sunday, Tomar and Patil were left facing a dead heat. 208.7 each after 20 shots. A shoot-off to decide who would finish fourth. While the latter hit a 10.5, Tomar's 10.8 was near perfect.

'Environment very positive'

Shirur, who was earlier the junior coach, hailed the 'positive environment'. ""Everyone is delighted, very satisfying with the world record," she said. "Last night (Sunday) everyone were in their zones. Most important thing is the environment, there is a lot of belief in the shooters. The training plan has been designed for them. There has been no place for negativity in the camp, it's all thanks to the team culture that we have built."

It's not always been like that, especially in the immediate aftermath of the Tokyo post-mortem. Shirur was candid enough to admit that 'it has been difficult for a few shooters post Tokyo'. 'It's a slow process, little bit of a struggle but there has been little bits of positive talk and that contributed to the environment being very positive now and it's very infectious. This has been a team effort."

With more medals in the range up for grabs in the next few days, Shirur and the rest support staff will be hoping for more.

Titas turns titan for India

KALYANI MANGALE @Chennai

SEPTEMBER 24, 2022, was an emotional day for women's cricket fans. After almost 20 years of service, legendary pacer and Indian stalwart Jhulan Goswami bid adieu to the game she loved at the Lord's Cricket Ground. The Bengal pacer, inspired by the 1997 Women's World Cup final in Kolkata, left the big shoes to fill.

Exactly a year later from that day, over 9000 km away from the Home of Cricket, in China, another Bengal pacer — Titas Sadhu — made her debut for India in the Asian Games. 24 hours later, Sadhu took three wickets against Sri Lanka in the final, helping India secure their first gold medal in cricket at the continental event. Ask Sadhu about that comparison with Goswami and she shrugs it off immediately. "No way! She has played for 20 years, I am not even 20," the teenager told this daily before leaving for Asiad.

Even though she won't like that comparison, Sadhu has always looked up to the veteran. "I met her just the day before the announcement of the squad for the Asian Games. She told me to talk to the juniors. I said, didi, I am also a kid (laughs). She spoke with my coach saying, that this year we have to groom her. She is going to be the Bengal player who plays for India. The next day, I got the India call-up," her eyes lit up. On Monday, her lethal spell of 4-1-6-3 would have reminded many of Goswami. Her three wickets, including that of Sri Lanka's captain Chamari Athapaththu, sunk the opposition before they could take the game away. By the time she finished her quota of four overs, India were closing on the gold medal.

India women's cricket team won gold medal on Monday | INSTAGRAM

Even before making a statement with the senior team, Sadhu took the cricketing world by storm in the inaugural U19 Women's T20 World Cup in South Africa earlier this year. After missing out on an opportunity to bowl in the tournament opener, Sadhu was the only Indian pacer to play all remaining matches. With spinners doing the job for India, she was waiting for her opportunity. And it came at the most crucial time for her country, in the final against England. "It's a fond memory. During the whole match, it felt like we were in control. We had the momentum with us in the final. I remember looking at the scoreboard in the 14th over of the first innings, and it was a sudden realisation that we were close to winning the World Cup. It was not a wish anymore." She could soak all of those emotions because at the end of the 14th over, England, the only undefeated side then, were reeling at 53/7. Sadhu had broken the back of that innings with the spell of her life that read: 4-0-6-2. Undoubtedly, she won the Player of the Final in the first-ever U19 Women's World Cup. She believes, her coach manifested it. "Just before the final, me and my coach were discussing the tournament as a whole. Everything has gone well so far. The icing on the cake would be the Player of the Match medal in the final. And it happened the next day," she added.

Long before the buzz of the gold medal, or even before the excitement of WPL, BCCI had organised the Women's U19 T20 Challenger Trophy in Porvorim, Goa. In the lunch break between two matches on day 2, the staff at the GCA Academy Ground made a prophecy. "Ye pacer asa Bengal cha. Sure India khelnar. (The pacer from Bengal. She is definitely going to play for India.)" Ten months later, Sadhu has confirmed it to be true, but she might just go beyond that and the gold medal.

Father's role in rise of Roshibina

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

NAOREM Roshibina Devi might have assured the country of a bronze by entering the women's 60kg wushu (Sanda) semifinal in Hangzhou, China on Monday but not everyone knows the hardships the Manipur athlete had to undergo before securing her second straight Asian Games medal. Recalling the hard times her family endured recently, she said she would be in tears quite often.

"The internet was shut down. It was difficult to contact them. The situation was bad and I was worried about the safety of my parents and siblings. Whenever we talked, we used to cry a lot. My father is a farmer but could not go out to till his land because of the grim situation. This also meant our income dried up but my family including my mother Naorem Romila Devi and younger brother Naorem Prioijit Singh never shared their problems with me. They wanted me to focus on my game. Even my coach Maibam Premkumar Singh made sure I do not suffer because of the financial constraints and extended every possible support so that I can pursue my dream," Roshibina, who hails from Kwasiphai Mayai Leikai in Bishnupur district, told this daily. She also recalled how her father had to sell a piece of their land to fund her travel from Srinagar to Imphal so that she could meet her family. However, because of the tense situation back home, she could not go to her village. "I spent around ₹40,000 during that period including the air travel from Srinagar to Imphal and then from Imphal to Patiala, where the national camp was held before we flew to Hangzhou. I could not visit my village and stayed at the SAI Centre in Imphal for almost a fortnight. He (father) came to meet me at the SAI centre where I was training with my coach. He didn't tell me that he had sold the land to arrange funds for me to travel to Manipur. Later, my elder sister Naorem Roshni Devi informed me about it and advised me to give my best," said Roshibina, who is currently without a job. Despite getting job offers in the past, the 23-year-old refused as she wanted to stay close to her parents in her home state. On the day, Roshibina outplayed Aiman Karshyga of Kazakhstan convincingly in the quarterfinal through points difference to storm into the semifinal.

Neha, Adhvait and Ali make progress

Neha Thakur, Adhvait Menon and Eabad Ali had successful outings in their respective sailing events. Thakur, who finished third in girls' dinghy ILCA4 race nine, improved one spot to reach second after race 10. Menon finished third in boys' dinghy ILCA4 race 10. In race nine, he was placed fifth. Ali also was placed at third in men's windsurfer RS:X event with a timing of 23:55 after race 12. Nethra Kumanan was placed fifth in women's single dinghy ILCA6.

Gujrathi scores 2 wins, women players stutter

Indian GM Vidit Gujrathi bounced back from a shock loss to post victories in the third and fourth rounds of the men's individual event on Monday. The 28-year old beat Prin Laohawirapap of Thailand in the third round before defeating Le Tuan Minh of Vietnam in the next to take his tally to three points. He is currently placed sixth. Along with compatriot Arjun Erigaisi, the fourth-seed, Gujrathi is on three points, half a point behind leaders after four rounds.

Deepak, Nishant progress to pre-quarters

World championship bronze medallists Deepak Bhoria (51kg) and Nishant Dev (71kg) recorded wins in their respective events on Monday. Deepak outpunched Malaysia's Muhammad Abdul Qaiyum Bin Ariffin 5-0 to advance to round of 16. Nishant notched up a win over Nepal's Dipesh Lama by a similar margin. Arundhati Choudhary bowed out in the opening round of the women's 66kg event.

Dhumal & Dalmiya re-elected to IPL GC

GOMESH S @Chennai

CURRENT IPL chairman Arun Singh Dhumal and former CAB president Avishek Dalmiya have been re-elected to the Indian Premier League governing council at the BCCI Annual General Body meeting that was held in Goa on Monday. Dhumal, the former BCCI treasurer, and Dalmiya — both of whom were a part of the IPL governing council — were re-elected for the posts with no nominations filed against them.

Meanwhile, former India left-arm spinner Pragyan Ojha has resigned from the position of representative of the Indian Cricketers' Association in the Apex Council. The ICA is expected to conduct its election soon to fill the position. During the general body meeting, the state associations were informed of the profit they made in the previous financial year and the budget for the coming year.

However, there was no major decision taken regarding the senior men's selection panel — there are two selectors from the West Zone, chairman Ajit Agarkar and Salil Ankola — and likewise, there is no update on appointing the head coach for the women's team. The BCCI had invited applications for the head coach of the women's team in April and in August, the board had invited applications for bowling and fielding coaches. The women's team won the Asiad gold under interim head coach Hrishikesh Kanitkar.

After day-long drama, Pak get visa

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

EVEN before their much-anticipated clash on the field on October 14, the cricket boards from India and Pakistan were involved in a tussle over the late issuance of visas for the 2023 ODI World Cup. The drama only ended on Monday evening with the Pakistan Cricket Board (PCB) getting an intimation from the Indian High Commission in Islamabad to collect passports and visas.

"Finally, the Indian High Commission in Islamabad has contacted the PCB and asked it to collect passports and visas," a PCB source told this daily. With the deadlock ending, the 18-member Pakistan cricket team (15 players and three travelling reserves) apart from 15 support staff and officials are scheduled to fly out of Lahore late on Tuesday night and reach Hyderabad via Dubai by Wednesday evening. The matter was first reported on Friday with the PCB saying it had to cancel a team bonding camp scheduled in Dubai because of the delay. According to the PCB, the plan was to reach Dubai on September 25 and have a two-day short team bonding camp. The issue escalated on Monday with the PCB raising serious concerns with the International Cricket Council (ICC) through a letter addressed to the ICC CEO Geoff Allardice.

Pakistan play two warm-up games and as many World Cup matches in Hyderabad starting with the practice fixture against New Zealand on September 29. According to a statement issued by the BCCI on Monday, the match will take place behind closed doors as per the advice of the local security agencies. The PCB source claimed that it had sent the first batch of passport details on August 18 to the ICC, which in turn sent the visa invitation letter on August 28 to the board. The Pakistan team submitted the applications along with passports at the Indian High Commission in Islamabad on September 19, added the source.

Interestingly, the PCB announced the final squad for the marquee event on September 22, making two changes to the provisional squad by naming pacer Hasan Ali as a replacement for Naseem Shah and dropping Faheem Ashraf in favour of leg-spinner Usama Mir. The source claimed the passports of the two players, who were included in the squad late, were submitted along with others on September 19. Meanwhile, Rachakonda Commissioner of Police, Devendra Singh Chauhan, has confirmed to this daily that security measures are in place for the team.

Morata brace helps Atletico clinch derby

AGENCIES @Madrid

ALVARO Morata struck twice for Atletico Madrid as they inflicted rivals Real Madrid's first defeat of the season, with a 3-1 derby triumph on Sunday in La Liga. Champions Barcelona sit top of the league as Los Blancos lost their 100 percent record, with Antoine Griezmann also on target for Atletico, fifth, at their raucous Metropolitano stadium.

Real Madrid are third, a point behind Barcelona and high-flying Girona in second place, after they failed to match Atletico's level of intensity in an enthralling clash. Morata netted an early header and Griezmann doubled Atletico's lead, before Toni Kroos pulled Madrid into the game with a stinging drive before half-time.

Symptoms

- ● Fatigue ● Joint pain and swelling
- ● Skin problems such as rashes or hair loss
- ● Abdominal pain or digestive issues ● Recurring fever ● Swollen glands ● Dry eyes, mouth sores, or difficulty in concentrating

AUTOIMMUNE DISEASES

UNRAVELING THE IMMUNE MYSTERY

DIAGNOSIS OF AUTOIMMUNE DISEASES

● Blood tests ● Urine tests ● Imaging tests, such as X-rays, MRI, and CT scans ● Biopsies

COMMON TYPES OF AUTOIMMUNE DISEASES

Rheumatoid arthritis: Affecting the joints, this condition leads to pain, stiffness, and joint damage.

Systemic lupus erythematosus (SLE): Affecting various systems in the body, SLE can cause joint pain, skin rashes, and organ damage.

Multiple sclerosis (MS): MS targets the central nervous system, leading to a wide range of neurological symptoms.

Type 1 Diabetes: In this autoimmune disease, the immune system destroys insulin-producing cells in the pancreas.

Hashimoto's thyroiditis and Graves' Disease: These conditions involve the thyroid gland and can lead to either an underactive or overactive thyroid.

COMMON TREATMENTS

- ● Medications ● Lifestyle changes
- ● Biological therapies
- ● Physical therapy ● Surgery

UNNIKRISHNAN S @ Thiruvananthapuram

AUTOIMMUNE diseases are a group of perplexing conditions where the body's immune system, typically a guardian against bacterial and viral invaders, inexplicably attacks your own body. What adds complexity to these disorders is that they can attack any part of the body, potentially leading to life-threatening consequences if left undiagnosed and untreated.

There has been no conclusive understanding of the precise mechanisms behind the onset of autoimmune diseases. Several factors, including genetics, environmental influences, and infections, are thought to contribute to the development of these conditions. It is often a combination of these factors that triggers the immune system to launch attacks against healthy tissues within the body.

Autoimmune diseases come in a wide variety, with over 100 broad categories falling under this umbrella. While some autoimmune diseases are relatively common, there are also rare and elusive conditions that remain challenging to diagnose.

Dr M Bhuvanesh, consultant at the Department of Rheumatology and Clinical Immunology, KIMSHEALTH, Thiruvananthapuram, highlights some common autoimmune diseases, including rheumatoid arthritis, systemic lupus erythematosus, type 1 diabetes, inflammatory bowel disease, and thyroid disorders like Hashimoto's thyroiditis. These conditions tend to affect women more, with up to a fourfold increased risk compared to men, he said.

Treating autoimmune diseases is a complex challenge, as there is no one-size-fits-all approach. Treatment goals typically include alleviating symptoms, reducing inflammation, and suppressing the immune system to prevent further damage.

The symptoms of the diseases can vary widely, depending on the specific condition and the affected organs. Common symptoms include fatigue, joint pain, muscle weakness, skin rashes, and gastrointestinal issues. Diagnosis often involves a comprehensive assessment, including medical history, physical exams, blood tests, and imaging studies.

The cost of treating autoimmune diseases in a hospital in India can vary depending on several factors, including the type of disease, the severity of the symptoms, the treatment options that are chosen, and the hospital itself. However, in general, the cost of treating autoimmune diseases in India is lower than it is in developed countries. The number of people willing to get treated and the specialised treatment centres have also increased.

> Twenty years ago, there was no treatment for autoimmune diseases. If a person developed arthritis, they would be bedridden for five to 10 years. Now, everything can be treated or controlled for a person to lead a normal life
> — Dr Padmanabha Shenoy, rheumatologist

Dr Padmanabha Shenoy, rheumatologist and medical director of Dr Shenoy's CARE in Kochi, reflects on the progress in autoimmune disease treatment. "Twenty years ago, there was no treatment for autoimmune diseases. If a person developed arthritis, they would be bedridden for five to 10 years. Now, everything can be treated or controlled for a person to lead a normal life."

Treatment options for autoimmune diseases often include immunosuppressive medications, disease-modifying drugs (DMARDs), and lifestyle modifications to manage symptoms and improve quality of life. Emerging therapies, such as CAR T-cell therapy, initially developed for cancer treatment, are showing promise in managing conditions like arthritis.

"Newer treatment options, including biological agents, are used wherever appropriate," said Dr Bhuvanesh. "Yoga and meditation also help in reducing the stress factor, thereby aiding in the treatment of these disorders. Anti-inflammatory diets, which include fruits, vegetables, and foods rich in omega-3, may benefit people with autoimmune disorders," he added.

Dr Vishad Viswanath, rheumatologist and founder of the Institute for Rheumatology and Immunology Sciences (IRIS) in Thiruvananthapuram, underscores the importance of timely diagnosis in effectively managing rheumatic conditions in young adults. He also advocates for exploring avenues to make advanced treatments accessible to all.

In the battle against autoimmune diseases, early detection, advances in medical science, and a holistic approach to treatment hold the promise of improved outcomes and a better quality of life for those affected.

MYTHS BUSTING

Assistant Professor

Department of Psychiatry, Tiruvarur Medical College

Myth: Antidepressants can be addictive

Fact: They are not, but suddenly stopping the intake of antidepressants may produce withdrawal symptoms. These symptoms will settle within a few days.

Myth: Once started, antidepressants must be taken lifelong

Fact: The duration of the treatment depends on each individual. Some may need it long term, for others it would be short term. These drugs must be stopped under medical supervision.

Myth: Prolonged usage of antidepressants can damage kidney

Fact: This is wrong but regular check up and monitoring of side effects is vital for prolonged use of any medicines.

Myth: There is no need to take antidepressants on a daily basis

Fact: They should be taken daily. Irregular medication might not be effective.

Myth: Taking antidepressants will change one's personality

Fact: It will not alter core personality traits. They are used to alleviate the behavioural and mood shifts. They help the patients to return to the normal state without depressive symptoms.

PROSTATE CANCER

Early detection key to prolonged survival

INTERVIEW
DR VIMAL DASSI

Prostate cancer is one of the most common cancers among men, globally. However, it is also one of the cancers with a high survival rate, if detected early. Speaking to Kavita Bajeli-Datt, Dr Vimal Dassi explains the symptoms, preventive measures, and treatment available to cure this illness. He is the director of the Department of Urology, Uro-oncology, Robotics and Kidney Transplant, Max Healthcare, Vaishali and Noida, Uttar Pradesh.

● How common is prostate cancer in India and among which age group?

Prostate cancer is the second most common cancer and the sixth leading cancer that causes death among men, worldwide. In 2020, there were an estimated 1.4 million new prostate cancer cases, causing 3,75,000 deaths. Nine among 1,00,00 men has prostrate cancer in India, which shows an increasing trend every year. However, the incidence rate of prostate cancer in Indian males is lower than in the western populations. Prostate cancer has a wide variation in incidence, disease characteristics, and mortality, within India. For example, the incidence rate is higher among the urban population. Also, this cancer is primarily a disease of the elderly, with more than three-quarters of cases occurring among men above the age of 65.

● How to detect prostate cancer?

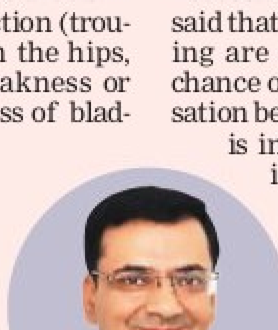
There won't be any particular symptoms in the early stages of this cancer. As the disease progresses, patients may get symptoms, indistinguishable from benign prostatic disease (a condition in which the prostate gland is enlarged). These lower urinary tract symptoms include increased frequency of urination, nocturia (increased frequency of urination at night), poor urinary stream, and strain to pass urine. Further, there will be symptoms like blood in urine or semen, erectile dysfunction (trouble getting an erection), pain in the hips, spine, ribs, or other areas; weakness or numbness of legs or feet; and loss of bladder or bowel control.

● How to diagnose prostate cancer?

Prostate screening includes a physical examination, which is Digital Rectal Examination (DRE). During a DRE, the doctor inserts a gloved, lubricated finger into the rectum to examine the prostate. If any abnormalities are found in the texture, shape or size of the gland, patients may need to take further tests. This includes a blood test, Prostate-Specific Antigen (PSA) test. PSA higher than usual level may indicate prostate infection, inflammation, enlargement or cancer. Based on PSA and DRE findings, a decision is taken to proceed with an MRI and prostate biopsy. Further investigations can help to determine how advanced the cancer is. For example, Positron Emission Tomography (PET)/ Computed Tomography (CT) scans may be used to see how far the cancer has spread, and a bone scan can help to detect bone metastases.

● How can we prevent prostate cancer?

Screening is a vital tool to diagnose and prevent prostate cancer. It includes PSA examination after 60 years of age, especially in those who have a familial history of prostate cancer. A healthy lifestyle with daily exercise, mindful eating habits and restricting alcohol consumption and smoking is necessary to prevent prostate cancer. It is said that familial history, obesity and smoking are factors that might increase the chance of this cancer. However, direct causation between these factors and the cancer is inconclusive. The exact role of diet in prostate cancer is also unclear. However, there is evidence that choosing a healthy diet low in fat and full of nutrients may lower the risk, though research results have been mixed.



● What is the life expectancy of someone who has had prostate cancer?

Prostate cancer survival depends on its stage. Life expectancy is very high if the disease had been detected early. The five-year survival rate is almost 100% in early-stage disease. Nearly 80% will survive their cancer for ten years or more. Generally, prostate cancer has a high survival rate – one of the highest among all cancers. It is often a slow-moving disease.

● What are the available treatment options?

The earlier the treatment, the better the result and life expectancy. Treatment options range from surgical removal of cancer (radical prostatectomy) to hormonal/ chemotherapy/ radiotherapy as per stage of disease and response to therapy. In the case of low-risk localised disease, patients are kept under active surveillance and regular follow-up. Here, prostate removal surgery is the treatment of choice. In those with an advanced stage of high-risk cancer, palliative medicine, including hormonal therapy in the form of injections or bilateral orchiectomy (removal of both sites), is done.

● Can prostate cancer be completely cured?

Early-stage or localised prostate cancer can be cured entirely after radical prostatectomy. Advanced diseases can be controlled with hormonal/ chemotherapy/ radiotherapy. However, a cure cannot be achieved for advanced illnesses. Even after complete removal, it requires strict follow-up to look for any recurrence or relapse and appropriate management. A few patients may develop urinary incontinence (leakage of urine) after surgery, for which they require frequent visits to the hospital. Follow-up requires a blood test to monitor PSA level and body imaging to look for any progression or recurrence. A typical follow-up after curative treatment is three months in the first two years, followed by a half-yearly or yearly follow-up.

● What are the innovations in surgical management of prostate cancer?

Robotic surgery for prostate cancer is an innovative technology that has significantly improved the outcome of prostate cancer surgery. The surgery is associated with enhanced agility, 3D visualisation, and better magnification. It has reduced the risk of infection and bleeding. There will be minimal scar after the surgery and early recovery with less postoperative pain is also assured. This innovation has taken radical prostatectomy to a new level. Advancements like single port robotic prostatectomy (through a single small incision) are ongoing efforts to improve the results further.

Repellents can keep scrub typhus at bay

NAMRATA SINDWANI @Bengaluru

Scrub Typhus, also known as bush virus, is an infectious disease, caused by the bacteria Orientia tsutsugamushi. It spreads through the bites of infected chiggers (larval mites).

Amid the rising incidence of zoonotic diseases observed worldwide, several parts of India like Assam, Maharashtra and Odisha have recently witnessed a spike in scrub typhus cases. The symptoms of the disease — fever, chills, headache, enlarged lymph nodes, rashes, body ache, and muscle pain — usually begin within ten days after being bitten, explained Dr Brunda, consultant, Internal Medicine, Aster CMI Hospital. A dark, scab-like region develops at the site of the chigger bite.

XPLAINER

The Centre for Disease Control noted most cases occur in rural areas of Southeast Asia, Indonesia, China, Japan, India and northern Australia.

Dr Aditya S Chowti, Senior Consultant (Internal Medicine), Fortis Hospital, said the disease is endemic and does not spread from human to human. Though it provides relief, doctors advise people to be watchful of their surroundings as the world sees a rise in zoonotic diseases and is taking measures towards building a one health approach, focusing on the factors causing them.

People travelling to places with thick vegetation cover and forest areas must remain cautious and avoid bacterial breeding grounds. The disease with severe illness can develop organ failure and bleeding, which can be fatal if left untreated. They may notice mental changes, ranging from confusion to coma. A person with symptoms can undergo an antibody test to detect it early and an Elisa method test is required later for confirmation.

Doctors suggest insect repellents for frequent travellers and to ensure that arms and legs are fully covered. A symptomatic treatment procedure is followed as it is not a common disease, with no vaccine available.

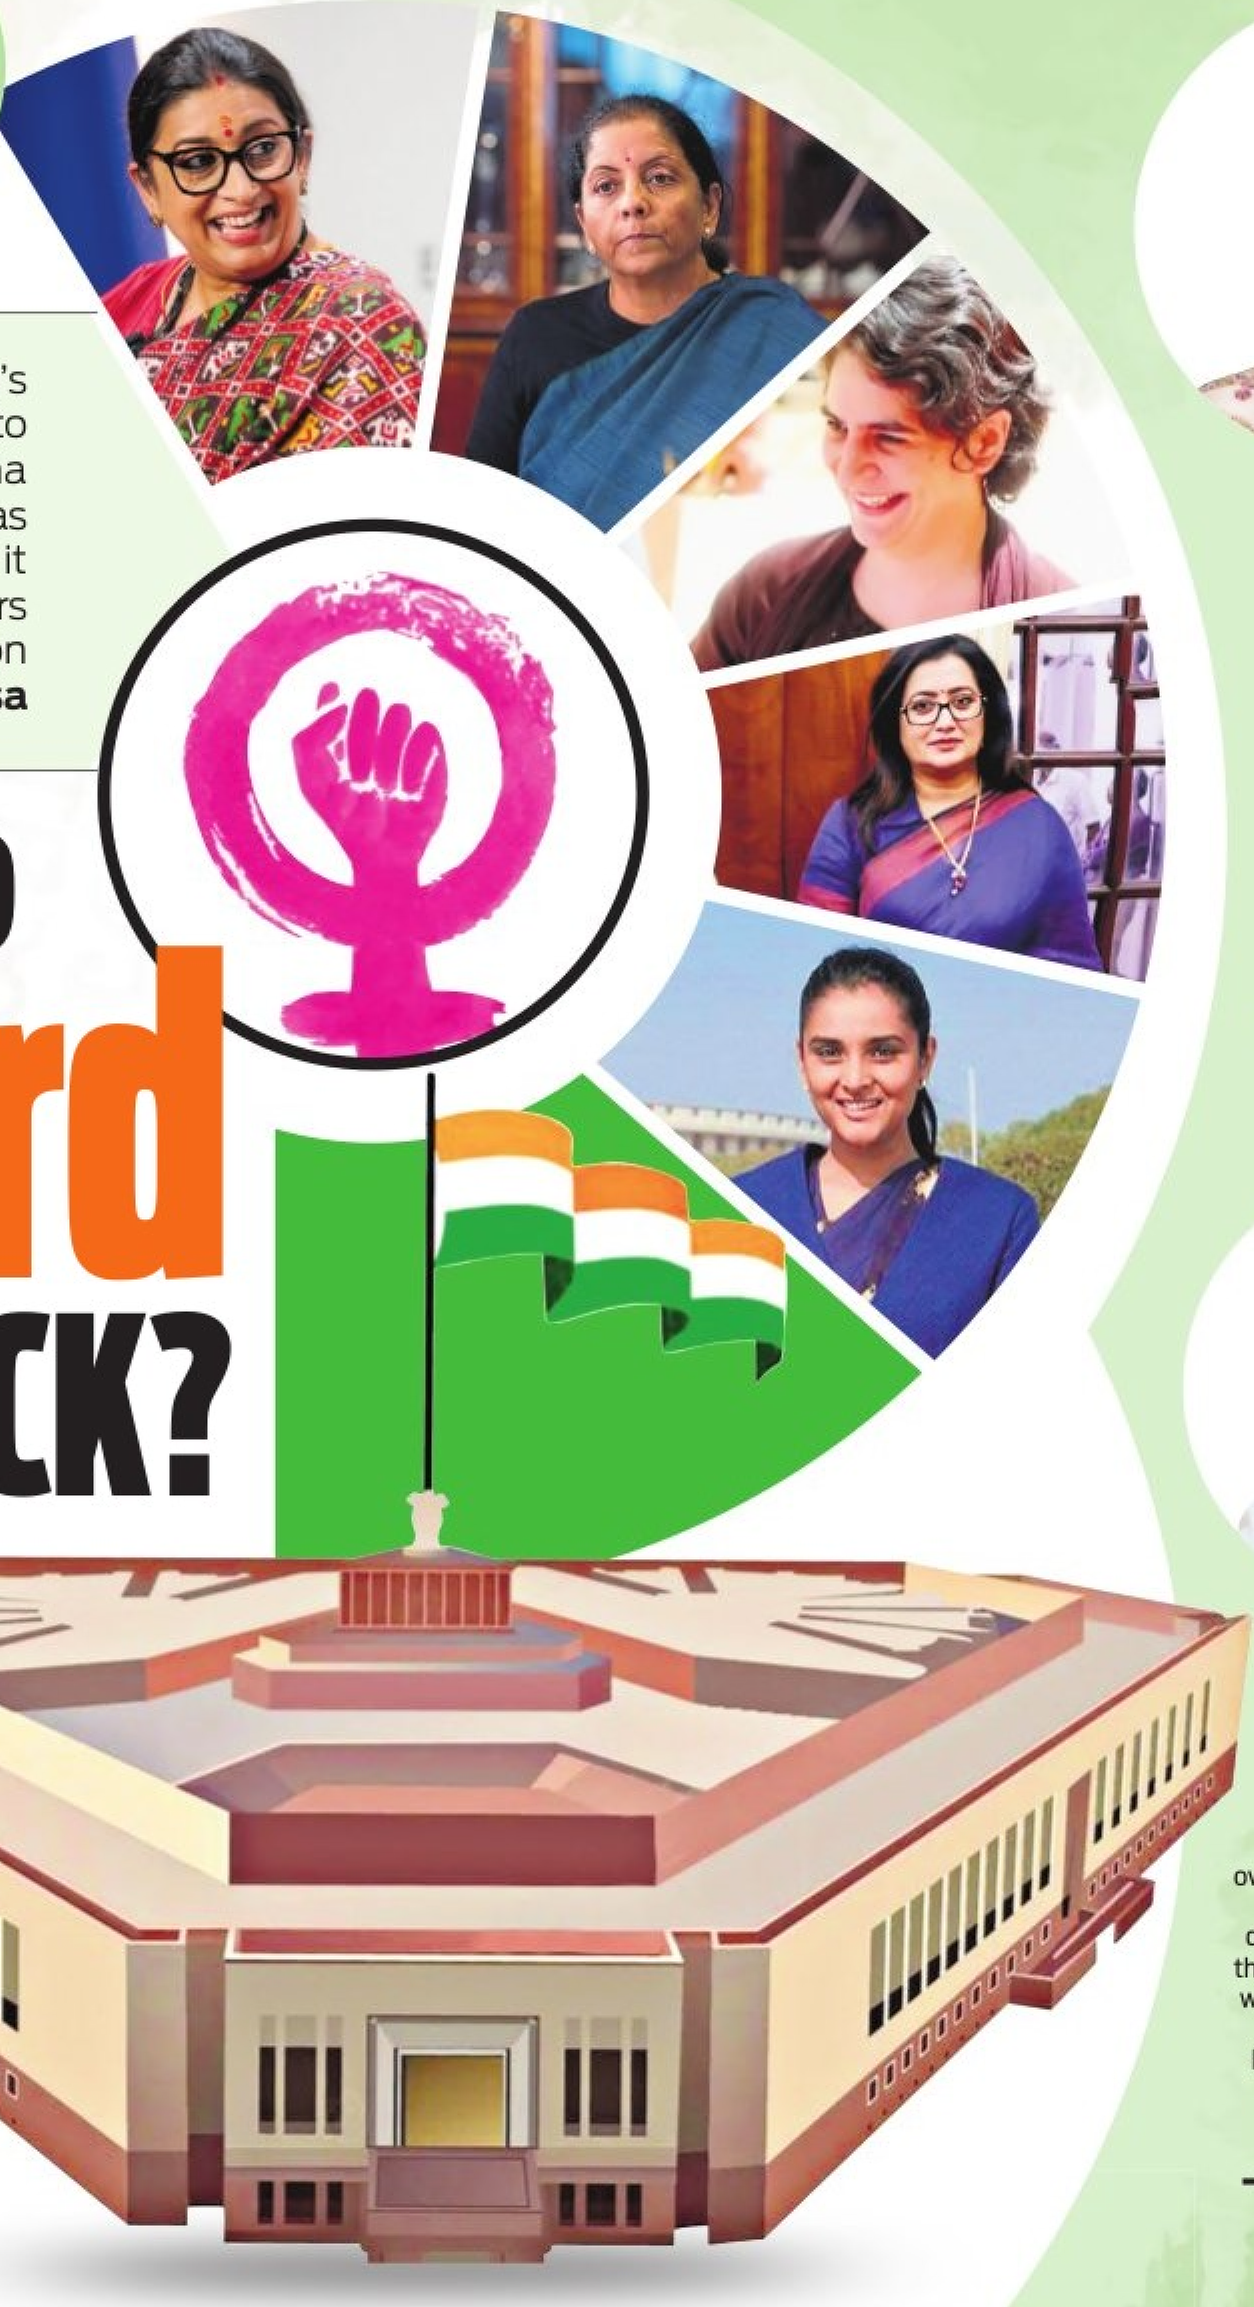
ONE STEP forward OR TWO STEPS BACK?

In a historic event, the Women's Reservation Bill 2023, which proposes to reserve 33 per cent of seats in the Lok Sabha and state assemblies for women was recently cleared in the Lok Sabha. While it comes as a welcome move for many, others are sceptical about its implementation

— Monika Monalisa



I am part of a women's collective, Shakti, and we're fighting for more and more representation of women in Parliament for women. So this is definitely something that I am personally invested in. There should be more women involved in policy-making and in all kinds of important positions. It is important for us to have women parliamentarians. There seems to be some apprehension when the bill might be implemented. I hope there is no delay and it happens soon. The implementation is the most important aspect.

– MD Pallavi, singer

This bill should have been passed decades ago. Governments before have presented it in Parliament. Each time it got scuttled because of petty politics by different parties. Even this time, its passage has been done more with optics in mind. It will take till 2029 to come into effect. It is already too late and will be much-delayed by the time it is implemented. But it is a relief that it finally is moving forward.

– KM Chaitanya, filmmaker

It is finally a moment to celebrate and I really welcome it. I am glad we will have a voice. As a feminist, I would definitely want to see a day when women don't need reservations. I envision a non-patriarchal world where women don't need such reservations and they have just as many opportunities as men.

— Anu Prabhakar, actor

It is rather shameful that our political parties have to be subjected to such a constitutional obligation to give more representation to women. If the parties themselves had been more equitable, there would have been no need for this. So now, the bill is there, with its flaws, which are to be expected. While making any such law that needs to take into account the complexities of caste-based inclusion in India, I hope the elected representatives - alternately dissing it, on the one hand, and taking credit for it, on the other - will vote it into law. They will have ample time to discuss and improve it in the years to come.

— Prakash Belawadi, actor

I see it as a bit of a scam because nothing in effect is new. The government has amply demonstrated that when they want to do something, they do it overnight. They didn't wait for the census before they demonetised the currency for the whole country. I am all for women's empowerment, but I think because women have been bull* with for so long, we can smell bull* when we see one.

— Anuja Chauhan, writer

Rajiv Gandhi was the one who initiated this many years ago and I am happy that this has been passed. But it should not be only for vote-bank politics, it should be implemented soon without any ambiguity. There needs to be a time and date in place and things need to be transparent. I feel women are gentler and wiser in their way of thinking. We are genuinely interested in the welfare of people.

Jagriti Theatre's annual classical music & dance festival – which concluded recently – celebrated the tradition of India's music and dance while infusing the artforms with contemporary interjections

TWIST TO TRADITION

EXPRESS FEATURES

JAGRITI Theatre, one of the city's cultural venues, brought back its annual classical dance and music festival last weekend. The latest edition of SwarTaal, featured three performances by artistes in the classical music and dance space.

"SwarTaal was borne out of this particular idea of what a cultural space can do to support the art of the city. Jagriti has to encourage not just what the city, but also the local communities already have to offer. In the same vein, this festival supports a particular and encourages a particular form of art – classical dance and music – and lets particular audiences seek and enjoy those performances," says Rebecca Spurgeon, curator of Swartaal. Founder Arundhati Raja further adds, "Jagriti was built with the vision of a welcoming space for the performing arts. SwarTaal enhances this vision by the spontaneous and encouraging response of highly acclaimed artistes."

Since its first edition in 2017, SwarTaal has hosted performances by Pt Venkatesh Kumar, Bombay Jayshree, national awardee Bindhumalini Naraynaswamy, Gundecha Brothers, Mallika Sarabai, Revanta Sarabai, Kalamandalam, among others. This year, the festival featured performances from Prithvi Nayak, Sangeetha Sivakumar and Priyadarshini Ghosh. "One thing that unifies all three of them, is the deep interest in pushing the form. While the beauty of Indian classical music and dance is, in what already exists, we're seeing contemporary interjections into classical music and dance. These artistes are asking, 'Why?' and 'I will add, I will add my own identity, I will add my own experience to it'," adds Spurgeon.

Unlike contemporary dance and music, classical forms are often less popular, especially with the younger generations. Oftentimes, it is to do with accessibility. With SwarTaal, Spurgeon stresses that the performances were made accessible to people who are witnessing the artform for the first time.

"When we look at an artform, our approach has always been to examine whether it is accessible to everyone. Does the audience need to know a lot about the form in order to even enjoy it or understand what's going on stage? That's true with most artistes, but particularly with the three artistes we had in this year's lineup. It was for people watching this particular classical form for the first, but also for someone who has deep appreciation for the artform," she concludes.

IIIT-Bangalore receives 'Green University Award 2023'

The International Institute of Information Technology Bangalore (IIIT-Bangalore) got the 'Green University Award 2023' during the 7th NYC Green School Conference held in New York recently. The award was received by Udaya Hegde, a governing body member and alumni of IIIT-Bangalore. The institution's commitment to reducing '3W' pollutions (weather, water, waste) and promoting eco-conscious practices has set a benchmark. Prof. Debabrata Das, director, IIIT-Bangalore, said "IIIT-Bangalore's sustainability initiatives extend beyond the campus, as we encourage student community in green initiatives such as tree-planting campaigns, marathons to promote environmental conservation and to donate their used apparel and footwear to those in need."

FIT BIT

UTTHITA PARSVASAHITA

(STRETCHED SIDEWARD POSE)

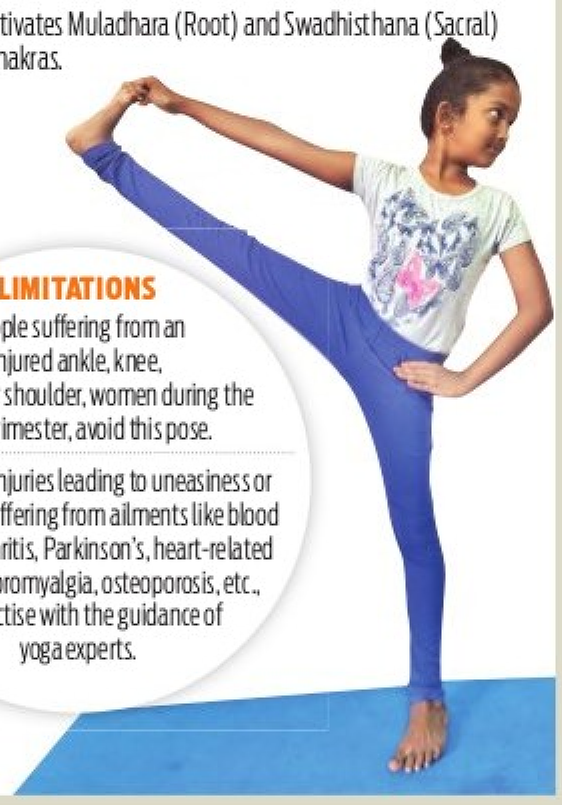
This is considered as a warm-up yoga pose to prepare the body for more intense yoga poses. The yoga sequences show multiple ways to do Standing Side Stretch Pose depending on the focus of the sequence and the ability of the students.

STEPS

- Start in Tadasana (Mountain Pose), bend the right leg at the knee and hold the right toe with your right hand.
- Inhale and slowly stretch the right leg also stretching the arms, and hip joint. Look towards the opposite side, making sure the feet are firm on the ground.
- Slowly go deeper into the pose feeling the stretch at the lower back, the gluteus maximus, hips, hamstrings, quadriceps, calves and shoulders. Remain here for about four breaths.
- If you find it difficult to hold this pose in balance, you can use a wall for better support.
- Ensure that leg is firm on the floor and engage the core (pulling belly in) to support the hips and legsw to remain in balance.
- Release the pose and relax. You can repeat it with the other leg.

BENEFITS

- Helps improve overall flexibility of muscles, making them strong.
- Maintains balance while coordinating the breathing process.
- Helps to calm the mind, improves focus and concentration.
- Helps to increase consumption of oxygen.
- Open the hips while pelvic floor muscles are engaged.
- Useful for women who experience cramps during menstruation.
- Pregnant women can use a wall or chair support.
- Helps in reduction of water retention, improving blood circulation in the legs.
- Activates Muladhara (Root) and Swadhisthana (Sacral) Chakras.



LIMITATIONS

People suffering from an injured ankle, knee, hip, back or shoulder, women during the third trimester, avoid this pose.

People with injuries leading to uneasiness or discomfort, suffering from ailments like blood pressure, arthritis, Parkinson's, heart-related ailments, fibromyalgia, osteoporosis, etc., can practise with the guidance of yoga experts.

AN EVENING AT THE EXHIBITION

OPEN SPACE
Hrithik Kiran Bagade
Assistant News Editor
hrithik@newindianexpress.com

SOMETIME in the early 1990s, Palace Grounds in Bangalore was bedecked to host a one-of-a-kind fascinating event. Its imminent arrival was splashed over all the major dailies, while Cable TV networks back then even promoted its grand scale through a pre-recorded montage and VO that simply made the prospect of beholding this spectacle all the more irresistible for discerning Bangaloreans.

It was an exhibition on dinosaurs, following the Jurassic Park film frenzy. While I don't exactly remember the exhibition's name, I vividly recollect the magnitude and seriousness with which it enraptured the city's imagination. I had visited with my mother, and some friends and their mothers on a weekend evening. The ticket was priced a nominal now, princely then ₹10 for entry. The organisers had set up large pavilions where life-size bionic specimens of dinosaurs were housed. Whenever someone happened to get close to an exhibit, the mechanised puppet would automatically move and make sounds. The experience was breath-taking, especially with the massive T-Rex ferociously roaring at onlookers. Before we exited, I purchased little rubbery dinosaur figurines that grew in size when soaked in water overnight, a little souvenir. This is one exhibition I fondly remember, as part of my days in Old Bangalore.

Bangalore, the good old pensioners' paradise of yore, had a lazy, charming feel to it. Back in the 1980s and '90s, as far as my life on Earth goes, the Garden City played host to these grand events that were simply called "exhibitions" in the neighbourhoods. Whenever these events came on the horizon, families, friends, relatives, and neighbours, got together to plan a common date to pay a visit. It was a major to-do thing, and mothers would impatiently wait for their kids to return from school so that the family could hop onto their scooter and ride to the venue.

The city had many open spaces and maidans where these exhibitions – also called consumer exhibitions, melas, fairs, expos, and trade shows – would be set up. A mega show where food, joyrides, and retail stalls came together in a melange of light, colour, smells, music, and cheers that every Bangalorean looked forward to. A large entrance, before which a narrow-caged set-up to buy entrance tickets stood, opened to a memorable evening. The stalls retailed anything from clothes, handicrafts, stationary items, religious paraphernalia, kitchenware, toys, and showpieces, to the more outlandish handheld massage contraptions, magic prop sets for children, and fish tanks. It was retail therapy at a steal. Food stalls had long lines of tired patrons waiting for their portions of some typical fare, which included chilly and capsicum bajjis, large white papads sprinkled with chilli powder, candy floss, bhel puri, and ball ice cream. Children would eagerly wait for space on the next round on a ferris wheel, carousel, mary columbus, or a makeshift roller-coaster. Then there were jugglers, daredevils, lucky draws, hooplas, games, and large robots which read out one's fortune (simply dubbed 'computer astrology'). Irrespective of what that fortune turned out to be, that was an evening well-spent, money-wise and family-wise.

There was an exhibition every few months, and pamphlets announcing it would be snuck into every newspaper and front gate, 'hypnotising' people into coming to the gala. While driving downtown, the imposing ferris wheel in the distance would loudly call out: "The exhibition is in town!" As Bangalore grew, its open spaces dwindled, making way for malls, IT parks, enclaves, and gated townships. Grounds on which these sprawling events once planted tents to entertain cityfolk, became off-limits behind veils of security. Fast forward to today, very few of such exhibitions show up, with their remnants best cherished in RK Narayan's short story 'Engine Trouble'. The city might be changing fast, but for us Old-Bangaloreans, its identity is 'exhibited' in these lasting fond memories of those evenings some 20 years ago.

TALKING ART

THE ART OF AUCTIONING ART

JITHA KARTHIKEYAN
jithakarthikeyan2@gmail.com

(Jitha Karthikeyan is an artist and curator, passionate about making art accessible to the larger public)

IT has been a jaw-dropping few days for all those avid news followers in our country. A painting by an Indian artist has sold for a whopping ₹61.8 crore at an auction recently. Reactions by the dismissers of art have been varied. "Is this true or fake news?", "Why would anyone buy a work of art for such a vulgar amount?", "What's the big deal in a painting??"...But, no matter what, money speaks to the human race without distinction and these astronomical figures simply cannot be ignored.

Here's the full story. The artist in question is Amrita Sher-Gil, one of India's most famous artists from the pre-Independence era. Considered India's national treasure, her artworks have been categorised as non-exportable Indian art. The auction was held in India and the staggering amount that the painting titled 'The Story Teller' fetched, was from the pockets of an Indian art collector. Up until a few years ago, art auctions and their newsworthy sales always belonged to the lands beyond our shores. Indians had wiser things to buy; real estate, gold, stocks and shares and of course, three-quarters of one's wealth had to be set aside for that big fat Indian wedding! Investing in art was not even on any remote radar of our existence.

Things are certainly changing. This auction comes close on the heels of another one recently held in Mumbai where late Indian artist, SH Raza's 'Gestation' sold for ₹51.75 crore. In 2022, an untitled 1969 painting by VS Gaitonde was bought for ₹48.3 crore, again at an auction house in Mumbai. And a painting by Tyeb Mehta sold for ₹41.97 crore at a similar Indian auction. The Indian audience seems to have miraculously woken up to the potential of art as an investment. Although Indian artists have always garnered a lot of interest globally and have even broken records at international auction houses, they remained relatively ignored in India for decades. Enlightenment bestows its halo on those who seek and finally, the Indian market has started recognising the significance of these masterpieces.

The Indian market may be barely 20 years old, but it certainly is proving to be a voice to reckon with. European masters may have a 500-year-old advantage, no doubt. Leonardo Da Vinci's Salvator Mundi sold for ₹3,300 crore in New York while the world gasped in disbelief. In comparison, we may have miles to go to reach anywhere substantially noteworthy. Yet, positive times lie ahead as bars are being raised by new art collectors.

Art auctions may seem to reduce art to a commodity. It may feel like being in the womb of a noisy stock exchange, teeming with brokers and investors. Risks are assessed to arrive at decisions. In the end, an acquired artwork turns into not merely an asset but also makes the buyer a part of its history. Art is an intellectual asset for an aesthetic soul. Go ahead and buy a piece of original art today and soak in the beauty of it while you await your returns.

Games couples play

DO you play games with your loved one?

I am not talking about psychological "games" that are patterns of connecting with each other with an ulterior motive that almost always has something to do with control or a more personal agenda. I am also not talking about sports, and certainly not the rigorous, competitive ones like squash or badminton or even table tennis, but just good old games that we would play for fun – regular games like Ludo or Catan. Games that we learned to play with friends and others to pass time over long periods of summer holidays where there was nothing much to do. Of course, anything can be made competitive to the point where it becomes a serious high-stakes matter like how Bridge or Poker, or even Scrabble, has become, but it is hard to imagine something like snakes and ladders, or Checkers, becoming much more than just a fun game to play to pass time.

The point of games like this is not so much about winning as much as it is about all the emotions that the game's positions bring up, the joys and tragedies of the ups and downs of chance, and through that, all the conversation that comes up. We would not necessarily remember who won what game after a while, but how we played, how we acted when we had a great turn in fortune, and how we expressed our feelings – all those become stories to tell each other and others.

More than all that, there is a sense of closeness and belonging that playing such games seem to bring up that few other things other than sharing major life events seem to bring up. Think of your own childhood - chances are that the people you played such games with are the ones you count as being your closest, whether it is friends, siblings or cousins. The more you have played with each other, the closer you are likely to hold them in your life .

Somehow, we end up thinking of being in a relationship as a very "adult" thing and even when we have time to spare and want to have some fun with each other, we think of doing very adult-like activities with each other such as going out dancing or cooking together and throwing a get-together with friends. Even if we think of games, they end up being elaborate game nights for groups of friends – not something one does for just ourselves. It becomes a performance rather than just a fun, intimate thing to do with each other.

We do not have to wait to have a quorum. We do not have to wait till we are old and retired, and have nothing to do except play a game or two. We do not have to play just sports, not games.

Loving each other is being playful with each other. Next time you have some free time with your loved one, maybe play some games? It might just help you get much closer than an OTT show can!

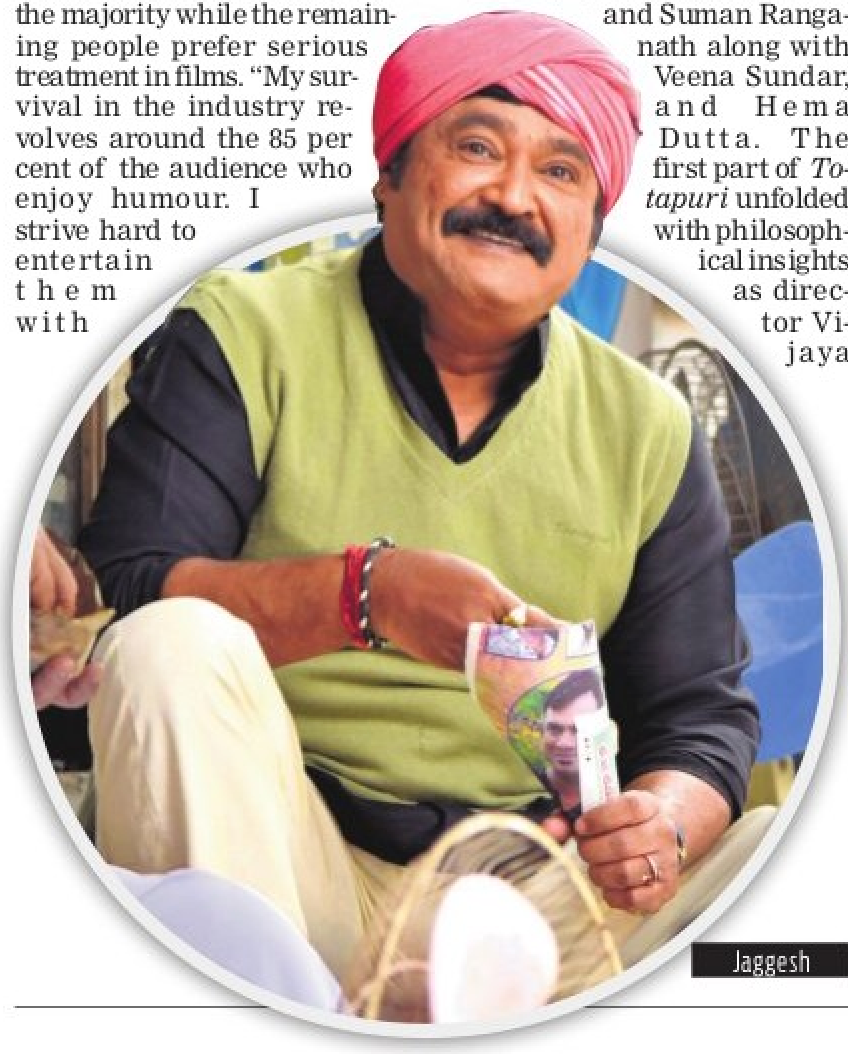
'I AM GRATEFUL FOR THE GLOBAL APPRECIATION OF MY WORK'

...says Jaggesh, as he talks about the second instalment of Totapuri Chapter 2 hitting theatres this week, using humour to convey social messages and more

A SHARADHAA

In his illustrious career, Navarasa Nayaka, Jaggesh is known for delivering entertainment infused with meaningful messages. The actor firmly believes in catering to a diverse audience, acknowledging that comedy resonates with the majority while the remaining people prefer serious treatment in films. "My survival in the industry revolves around the 85 per cent of the audience who enjoy humour. I strive hard to entertain them with both situational and social message-based comedy. They are fundamental elements in my films."



Jaggesh

Jaggesh's Totapuri Chapter 2 is hitting the screens this week. The film is directed by Vijaya Prasad, produced by K A Suresh, and has music by Anoop Seelin. The first part of the romantic comedy-drama was released in 2022, featuring Jaggesh, Dhananjay, Aditi Prabhudeva, and Suman Ranganath along with Veena Sundar, and Hema Dutta. The first part of Totapuri unfolded with philosophical insights as director Vijaya Prasad skillfully wove the narrative around characters from diverse backgrounds, shedding light on how caste and religion can hinder peaceful coexistence. According to Jaggesh, Totapuri Chapter 1 introduced multiple characters uniquely, including a tailor's life, his struggles, and how he rises above them. Then there is a girl from an oppressed caste facing her own challenges, a nun, a Muslim woman, and a person running a non-veg restaurant, concluding with the introduction of Dhananjay. "It is the second half of Totapuri where the story truly lies," he reveals, "The film primarily delves into our existence in society, exploring various aspects such as caste issues, societal biases, and what society discusses and judges, all of which are portrayed in Totapuri Chapter 2. It's a film deeply rooted in reality. The film's message is clear: when addressing serious matters, it doesn't have to be a documentary—it can also incorporate humour."

While he reminisces about his co-star Tabla Nani in Eddalu Manjunatha, whose talents shine through. Likewise, Jaggesh talks about his co-actors in Totapuri and makes a special mention of Dhananjay, praising his acting prowess, "He has a bright future ahead in cinema."

Totapuri Chapter 1 may have appeared as double-entendre entertainment to some, but Jaggesh disagrees. He believes that opinions vary, and those who see it as a real subject will delve deeper into the film's meaning. "For those who wish to comment, they can find double meaning in any aspect of the film. I've been working in the industry for 42 years and have a diverse audience. People, especially women, still approach me and express their enjoyment of my movies. I once met an IAS officer who credited my films for helping him pass his IAS exam. On a flight, I had an introduction with a senior person who mentioned that he always enjoyed my films and later introduced himself as a Supreme Court judge. From educated audiences to the common man, they all enjoy watching my films. I don't want to self-boast by saying this, I just want to register that I'm grateful for the global audiences that continue to appreciate my work. At the same time, whenever a new set of audiences like my films, it makes things even more beautiful," Jaggesh concludes.

'Baanadariyalli explores love in diverse and engaging forms'

A still from the film

Rukmini Vasanth.

says Rukmini Vasanth, as she discusses her upcoming film and sharing the screen with Golden Star Ganesh in Preetham Gubbi's directorial

A SHARADHAA

Water and waves seem to have a profound connect in Rukmini Vasanth's life. Riding high on the success of Sapta Sagaradaache Ello and eagerly awaiting the release of Side B, the two-film-old actor is currently engaged and equally excited about the Ganesh-starrer Baanadaariyalli, directed by Preetham Gubbi and written by Preetha Jayaram. The film will hit theaters this week, and it is yet another exploration of the complexities of romance.

"Like the tagline says, this is not a love story, but a story about love. Baanadaariyalli explores love in various forms. It delves into the love between a boy and a girl, the bond between a father and son, and the connection people share with life itself. Ganesh plays the role of a passionate cricketer, while I portray a swimming coach and surfer. The love depicted here is for our respective sports too, all intricately woven into the narrative," reveals Rukmini as she throws light on the title Baanadaariyali, and says that the makers have chosen it aptly, and it is like capturing a feeling that words can't describe, much like love itself.

Baanadariyalli allowed her to explore new skills like surfing. "I've never been particularly sporty," she admits, and adds, "I'd try out sports activities but often gave up easily. However, when a film demands it, when they ask me to learn something like skydiving, I make sure to learn it. So, at Preetham's request, I took up the challenge of learning to surf as the director did not want to use a body double. When faced with such a challenge, you dive right in. Learning this new skill compelled me to commit my body, mind, and soul to the character. In a selfish way, now that the film is completed and ready for release, I'm delighted to have acquired expertise in surfing. It's wonderful to embrace the water enthusiast within me." Rukmini is sharing screen space with Ganesh for the first time and admits to have thoroughly enjoyed watching the Golden Star's films for more than a couple of reasons. "There's a certain spark in his eyes in every scene he's in. There is a magic that he brings to every character he portrays. I consider myself fortunate to have witnessed how Ganesh Sir keeps that magic alive as an actor, and it takes dedication to maintain that enchantment, and it's truly transformative," she says.

Baanadariyalli also features Reeshma Nanaiah has music by Arjun Janya and cinematography by Abhilash Kalathi.

Mahalakshmi to make a comeback to silver screen with TRP Rama

Mahalakshmi

The upcoming film TRP Rama marks the return of famous multilingual artiste Mahalakshmi to the silver screen after a hiatus. Commencing her career in the 1980s, she predominantly worked in Kannada cinema while also making notable appearances in Malayalam, Telugu, and Tamil films.

Mahalakshmi's last silver-screen outing was in Anthrangada Mrudanga in 1991, and after nearly thirty two years, she's making a comeback to Kannada cinema. The film's trailer, which was recently unveiled, hints at themes centred around women's exploitation and the crucial role of media.

At the trailer launch, Mahalakshmi passionately emphasised the pivotal role of teamwork in cinema, and having collaborated with actors from diverse linguistic backgrounds throughout her illustrious career. Speaking about the film, the actor shared that "Hear no evil, see no evil, speak no evil" is the theme conveyed through TRP Rama. "The film encapsulates not merely a cinematic endeavour but also a way of life steeped in enduring ethical values that deserve transmission to forthcoming generations."

The film, directed by Ravi Prasad, also has him acting in it. The filmmaker now eagerly awaits the green light from the Censor Board and hopes for an October release. During the trailer launch, Om Sai Prakash, a versatile actor-director spoke about the film's ability to deeply resonate with real-life incidents that tug at the heartstrings—the film's poignant portrayal of pressing societal issues, particularly the nuanced treatment of women.

Actor Sparsha, who is part of the film, believes that her decision to join TRP Rama was fueled by Mahalakshmi's presence in the project and considers it a privilege to collaborate with legendary luminaries.

TRP Rama, produced under the Ashutosh Pictures banner, features music by Rajguru Hosakote orchestrating, cinematography by Guru Prasad and background score by Rakesh Acharya.

'I was anxious every single day on the sets of Kaala'

AVINASH RAMACHANDRAN

A gangster. A righteous cop. A gangster again. The past year has seen actor Avinash Tiwary headline three tentpole series of the three most important streamers in India right now. Khakee: The Bihar Chapter (Netflix), Bambai Meri Jaan (Prime Video), and Kaala (Disney+Hotstar) have made Avinash a bonafide star in the OTT space. "In my breakout role, I played one of the greatest lovers (Laila Majnu), and recently I played one of the most dreaded gangsters. There are people who now know me as Chandan Mahto (Khakee), Dara Kadri (Bambai Meri Jaan), and Ritwik (Kaala). It will take time for Avinash Tiwary to resonate in their minds, but if I am consistent enough, one never knows," says Avinash.

If this clarity on charting one's career trajectory is impressive, his Kaala co-star Nivetha Pethuraj drops a banger of an announcement without warning. "I have a Telugu film coming up. Then, I am taking a break from acting. I'm not sure when I will return. But thanks to OTT, it is possible to make a comeback anytime."

Disney+Hotstar's Kaala, which is about money laundering, blood, brotherhood, betrayal, and more, is directed by Bejoy Nambiar and was one such special opportunity for both Avinash and Nivetha, who swear by the working style of the filmmaker. "I didn't know Hindi at all, and it took some time to get to the groove," says Nivetha, and is soon interjected by Avinash. "She has a very rare sincerity about her. Despite not knowing the language, there was never a time when a scene had to be reshot because of her. Nivetha has a strong temperament. She was an outsider, and her calmness was mighty impressive." Nivetha gracefully accepted the compliment, but revealed she had anxiety attacks during filming. "I remember sweating in my palms for the first time. Probably, it suited my character of Sithara. Plus, there was a sense of urgency while shooting, and we were like Bejoy's puppets," The sentiment is echoed by Avinash. "Bejoy is a maverick. His working style brings us out of our comfort zones, and the performances become spontaneous. I had an adrenaline rush and anxiety every day on the sets."

Another common aspect of Nivetha and Avinash is their pragmatism which has clearly kept them in stead even when the chips were down. "Earlier, I was content with getting the right stories and characters. However, who tells these stories matters a lot too," says Avinash.

Danny Kuttappa: I hope Skanda will be a turning point in my career

CE FEATURES

Danny Kuttappa, known as the 'Fiery-eyed' actor in Kannada cinema, has acted in Telugu films such as Baahubali and Gaddalakonda Ganesh. Now, he is now gearing up for the release of his next project in the language, Skanda. The commercial entertainer directed by Boyapati Srinu and features Ram Pothineni and Sreeleela in the lead and has Danny Kuttappa, in a prominent role.

Director Boyapati Srinu has reportedly praised the actor's dedication to his role and the nuances he adds. The filmmaker has also highlighted the importance of delivering even the smallest details. In Skanda, Danny Kuttappa plays a pivotal role and according to the makers, this role could potentially be a turning point in his career.

Having collaborated with both new and experienced talents in the Kannada film industry, Danny Kuttappa emphasises the significance of discussions concerning the portrayal of characters. "I believe that conversations between a director and an actor should not merely revolve around how the role must be played but should also delve into the character itself—how it should be portrayed, and what it aims to achieve. Such in-depth discussions, , can lead to a more profound portrayal of the character on screen," he says.
